

Shut Up, Or Else! Radio Critic Told, Killed By Sheriff

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Alice, Tex., Aug. 1 (P)—"The word has been passed to me that I better shut up, or else!" W. H. (Bill) Mason said in his last broadcast.

The text of the final program was released today by the son of the slain radio commentator, Burt Mason, 22, gave the document over to the Associated Press following his father's funeral yesterday.

Bill Mason was shot to death here Friday and Sam Smithwick, 60-year-old deputy sheriff, is charged with murdering him. The last broadcast, delivered Thursday, was a stinging broadside at the sheriff's department.

According to the text of the final broadcast, Mason was sharply critical of Sheriff Sain and accused Smithwick of being the owner of property at the edge of town where a night club was situated. Mason declared that prostitution was being practiced at the night spot.

Friday night raiders armed with shotguns fired eight shots at the darkened and deserted establishment. "I am going to take the gloves off today in the prostitution situation and start swinging," Mason said in the last broadcast.

"The word has been passed to me I better shut up or else." "This is my answer—this is my challenge. As long as a situation like this is permitted to continue, I shall blast it every time a new fact comes to my attention."

The 51-year-old radio commentator, who had worked on newspapers throughout the United States, was shot as he sat in his automobile. Star witness for the state will be Avelino Saez, Alice war veteran, who was in the car with Mason when the slaying occurred.

In an interview, Saez said Smithwick ordered Mason to stop and then walked up to Mason's car and shot him.

China Reds Fooled By British Cruiser

Amethyst Makes Fast Dash Down Yangtze River

By WAYNE RICHARDSON

Aboard H. M. S. Jamaica at Sea, Aug. 1 (P)—This 8,000-ton cruiser sped today to rendezvous with the British sloop Amethyst, whose bold escape from Chinese Red captivity in the Yangtze river Saturday made naval history. The meeting is expected tomorrow.

Dramatic details of the Amethyst's dash for freedom were recounted by Vice-Adm. A. C. C. Madden, second in command of the British Navy's Far Eastern station.

The vessel had been pinned down by the Communists in the Yangtze since April 20 when she was caught in a disastrous duel with Red shore batteries.

Madden said the escape was "all very well planned and conducted. The timing also was a vital factor."

"The Amethyst slipped cable Saturday night, at 10:12 Hong-kong time, making as little noise as possible," Madden said. "She followed astern of a steamer."

The ship was challenged and, ironically, a Red gunboat also in the same area was set afire by the Reds' gunfire.

The Amethyst replied to the shore batteries with one round of her main armament and a large amount of fire from her Bren and oerlikon guns, Madden said.

Mrs. Truman came by train from Independence, Mo., yesterday, and the president was at a suburban station to meet her. He cut short a week-end in the Maryland mountains to do so.

"It's been a long time," he told reporters at the station, "and I'm anxious to have her home."

A quick, husbandly kiss and they drove to the Blair House.

Federal Agencies Penniless, Await Stop-Gap Funds

Washington, Aug. 1 (P)—The House made ready today to rush to the rescue of tens of thousands of federal employees in agencies which became moneyless last midnight.

Technically speaking, the employees are working on faith that congress will supply the necessary funds before another payday rolls around.

Physician Wounded In Elevator Ambush

Former Mental Patient Dislikes Doctors

New York, Aug. 1 (P)—A former mental patient, who says he is "mad at all the medical profession," was under arrest today charged with shooting a physician in an apartment elevator ambush.

The victim, Dr. Louis Blitzman, 39, was reported in critical condition at Bellevue hospital with bullet wounds under the heart and in the abdomen.

His alleged assailant, David Kaplan, 45, a graduate pharmacist, was booked late last night on charges of felonious assault and violation of the weapons law.

Kaplan told of his dislike for the medical profession while under questioning by police.

Detectives said Dr. Blitzman, who had treated Kaplan for a mental disorder, told him some time ago to stop indulging a passion for horse racing. The detectives said they also learned that Dr. Blitzman had accused Kaplan of faking illness, and suggested that he get a job.

Dr. Blitzman was shot yesterday as he, his wife and child, and another man were descending in an elevator from the Blitzmans' 12th floor apartment in the Peter Cooper village development in Manhattan.

Police said Kaplan had gone to the 12th floor, learned that the Blitzmans were going out, ran eight floors down a stairway, and pushed a button to halt the self-service elevator car at the fourth floor.

Ford Strike Will Be Long One, Says Company Warning

Detroit, Aug. 1 (P)—Contract negotiations between the Ford Motor Co. and the CIO United Auto Workers got underway again today after a four-day recess requested by the company.

The two sides exchanged verbal blows in their wage dispute over the weekend.

Ford printed an editorial in its house organ, warning 108,000 production workers that any strike in support of 1949 contract demands probably would be a long one.

"Increased costs now mean increased prices and increased prices mean fewer sales," the editorial declared. "That means fewer jobs. If we are forced into a strike because of union leaders' insistence on unreasonable demands, we are of the opinion that it will last a long time."

Rent Control Lids Gone In 82 Cities

Wisconsin Passes Bill To Allow Increases

Chicago, Aug. 1 (P)—Lids have been popped off rent controls in at least 82 cities since local option authority, granted by congress became effective on April 1.

During the same time, Tighe E. Woods, federal housing expediter, lifted restrictions in 163 other communities but recently slapped them back on three after rents rose sharply.

Five states also have taken action under the local option provision of the 1949 rent control act toward abolishing systems or setting up their own systems.

In Wisconsin, a bill signed by the governor Saturday will lift the lids on June 1, 1950, but allow, meanwhile, immediate rent increases of from 15 to 30 percent. It also revises eviction regulations.

A bill passed by the Alabama legislature to decontrol that state has become snarled in a court test over whether it was signed by the governor within the time limit allowed to make it legal.

The report on the decontrol. In cities was made by the American Municipal Association with lists 8,000 city governments in its membership.

The association said that a number of cities had decided against removing rent ceilings at this time and that at least 56 others have scheduled hearings on the proposal.

The House voted temporary financing through August 31, the Senate cut the date to August 15.

"We will accept the Senate amendment and have the bill on the president's desk late today," Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) of the House Appropriations committee told newsmen. "I am glad to observe that the Senate believes it can have the regular appropriation bills out of the way in time to give the agencies their regular funds by August 15."

Affected by the stop-gap program are a score of so-called independent offices, the atomic energy commission, the army, the navy and air force, the interior department, and others.

Brutal Pair Kicks Man to Death At Charleston, W. Va.

Charleston, W. Va., Aug. 1 (P)—A man was kicked to death yesterday by two men who brandished a knife to keep a downtown crowd from coming to his aid.

Police called it one of the city's most brutal crimes. They said there was no apparent motive for the attack.

The victim was Edward Conrad O'Brien, a bottling company employee. He died on the way to a hospital.

Detective Capt. Dewey E. Williams identified the two men being held in connection with the attack as Harry Burdette, 25, and Fred Painter, 30.

Police said O'Brien was attacked after he had stopped at a newsstand to buy a paper.

(By The Associated Press)

The U. S. joint chiefs of staff conferred in Frankfurt today with army officers of Luxembourg and Italy. These were the first of a series of talks they will engage in with European military representatives.

Port Huron Lawyer Is New Commander Of Michigan Legion

Detroit, Aug. 1 (P)—The Michigan American Legion today was pledged to a fight for the removal of all Communists from teaching posts in Michigan schools.

That was one of the resolutions adopted by delegates to the annual state convention held here over the weekend.

The Legionnaires selected R. Gerald Barr, 31, of Port Huron, a World War II veteran, as commander of the Michigan department. An attorney, he served in the European theater of operations.

Other officers elected were E. (Chris) Christensen of Detroit, vice commander, and Guy Cox of Ironwood, national executive committeeman.

Another resolution adopted asked that federal civil service jobs reserved exclusively for veterans be extended to include tire chiefs, fire guards, laborers, janitors, truck drivers and helpers.

A third praised the Detroit police for "suppressing disloyalty to the government."

David Hallack, of Battle Creek, was named department public relations officer and editor of the Michigan Legionnaire, organization newspaper. A former editor of the Dillion (Mont.) Daily Tribune, Hallack has served the Legion for the last three and half years as a field representative.

He succeeds the late Charles S. Clark of Ann Arbor.

Mrs. A. D. Barnes of Cadillac was elected president of the Michigan Auxiliary.

Mrs. Edith Bryan of Detroit, Mrs. Mary Lopka of Ann Arbor, Mrs. Emma Allen of Cheboygan, Mrs. Alys Hunt of Port Sanilac and Mrs. Stella Rubin of Iron Mountains were picked as presidents.

Mrs. Nancy Shepherd, the retiring president, was named national executive committeewoman. The delegates re-elected Mrs. Bertha Proestel of Detroit to her 22nd term as secretary-treasurer.

State Jobs Slipped To Georgia Editors

Gov. Talmadge Adds 12 Backers To Payroll

Atlanta, Aug. 1 (P)—Gov. Herman Talmadge has added to the state payroll seven editors and three former editors of weekly newspapers since he took office in November, the Atlanta Journal reported.

Two other editors have been made non-salaried members of two state boards, the paper added in a Sunday story.

The Journal said the 12 men are strong supporters of the Talmadge administration.

Five of the men were reached for comment last night. One accused the Journal of "picking on the weekly press," three said they were not associated with a newspaper when they took state jobs, and the other declared he saw nothing wrong with taking a state job.

The Journal explained it made an investigation at the suggestion of the American Society of Newspaper Editors. The ASNE recently criticized the employment of newspapermen by the state of Illinois.

Bass was sentenced to die for slaying his cousin, Ranier L. Bass, in a card game argument April 12. He pleaded self-defense. The date for his execution has not been set pending a decision on a motion for a new trial.

Rough Waters Hold Up Channel Swim Of American Girl

Dover, Eng., Aug. 1 (P)—Shirley May France of Somerset, Mass., preparing for an attempt to swim across the English channel, got her first taste of English waters yesterday.

While strong winds whipped the channel into angry waves, Shirley took a swim in Dover harbor. Even there, the sea was so rough rowboats were unable to stay alongside her.

The 16-year-old swimmer hopes to beat Gertrude Ederle's 1926 record of 14 hours, 31 minutes.

Her father, J. Walter France, said "everything now depends on the weather, but I expect it will be at least 10 days before the attempt will be made."

Court Appointment Promised Quick O.K.

Senate Opposition To Tom Clark Unlikely

By JACK BELL

Washington, Aug. 1 (P)—Speedy Senate action on President's Truman's selection of Attorney General Tom Clark for the supreme court was promised today by Chairman McCarran (D-Nev) of the judiciary committee.

McCarran, who has been critical of Clark's handling of some of the justice department's affairs, told a reporter he will raise no objection to the nomination.

Senator J. Howard McGrath of Rhode Island, picked by the president to succeed Clark as attorney general, is expected to tell President Truman soon whether he can accept that appointment.

Senate confirmation is required for both the Clark and McGrath nominations.

McGrath has been conferring with Rhode Island Democratic officials about his possible successor in the Senate. Most politicians expect either Gov. John O. Pastore or Mayor Dennis J. Roberts of Providence to serve until a special election in 1950. McGrath's term as senator expires in January, 1953.

If the Rhode Island senator accepts the cabinet appointment, he will resign as chairman of the Democratic National committee. William Boyle, executive assistant, is expected to step into the chairmanship, which may be made a paid job. Boyle now draws $30,000 yearly as McGrath's operations chief on the committee.

Three stores also were damaged and electricity and telephone service to about 200 homes was cut off.

Fire Chief J. J. Martin identified the dead man as John Seagroats, a miner. Listed as blinded and in critical condition was his wife.

The other victims were not seriously hurt and one was released from a hospital after treatment.

St. Vincent Onestinghel of the local police, said a preliminary investigation indicated that the couple had been having domestic trouble for the past month.

He said the woman was called out to the car and that the man, after throwing something at her and saying "this is it," ran to the car. Shortly afterward it blew up.

The blast shook the whole downtown area. Martin said the explosion was apparently caused either by nitroglycerine or dynamite.

Romania Dissolves All Welfare Orders Of Roman Catholics

Bucharest, Romania, Aug. 1 (P)—Romania today dissolved all Roman Catholic welfare orders.

There are 15 such orders in Romania, the best known being the French order of St. Vincent De Paul. The orders are devoted to charity, hospital and social work among Roman Catholics.

Catholic priests, monks and nuns enrolled in the orders were told to choose within 15 days whether they will retire to three cloisters and two monasteries assigned to them, enter an old age asylum, or quit their orders and join the lay public, applying for jobs at local employment bureaus.

The decree was published in the official government bulletin.

House Leaders Ask Why Program Cuts Off Guns To China

Washington, Aug. 1 (P)—Gen. George C. Marshall told congress today that it would be "a very dangerous thing" to delay President Truman's program of foreign arms aid.

He advised the law-makers also against cutting the $1,450,000,000 program until the U. S. has ironclad guarantees that western Europe will cooperate fully.

"You're trying to start the engine up," Marshall told the house foreign affairs committee. The president's program does not go "whole hog," he declared.

"Very Dangerous"

The former secretary of state, who was army chief of staff during World War II, appeared at the committee's hearing on the history-making plans of arms aid to European members of the North Atlantic alliance and to Greece, Turkey, Iran, Korea and the Philippines.

Some Republican members of congress have proposed that foreign arms aid be limited to a smaller stop-gap program until the North Atlantic allies organize a defense council and adopt an overall plan. Senators Vandenberg (Mich.) and Dulles (NY), who have been leading supporters of the bi-partisan foreign policy, have been among those making this suggestion.

Under questioning by Rep. Merrow (R-N. H.), Marshall said he believed it would be "a very dangerous thing" to hold up the program until congress can assure itself that western Europe has evolved a detailed plan for military coordination and unity.

Nations In Dilemma

Marshall said he does not believe there will be any difficulty getting the benefitting nations to cooperate. He said he thinks "the formal conclusions" for cooperation have been reached already.

"They're all in such a dilemma," he said, referring to European nations, "that I do not think that we have to fear that they won't make progress in mutual cooperation."

Endorsing President Truman's $1,450,000,000 program, Marshall agreed with previous statements by Secretary of State Acheson and the army chief of staff, General Omar N. Bradley.

It is necessary, he said, for the nations of Europe who are friendly to the United States and are re-

Navy Pilot Buzzing Blamed For Death Of 16 In Air Crash

Fort Dix, N. J., Aug. 1 (P)—A public hearing by the Civil Aeronautics board appeared possible today as an aftermath of the crash of a Navy fighter plane and a commercial airliner in which 16 persons died Saturday.

The possibility of a public hearing was suggested last night by William K. Andrews, director of the board's Bureau of Safety Investigation. CAB representatives and Navy's officials are investigating reports that the naval pilot was "buzzing" the Eastern Airlines plane when they collided in the air near Fort Dix, N. J.

An account of the buzzing from upper cab pilot who witnessed the accident, George W. Humphries of Fairhaven, was backed up by pilots for Eastern Airlines and National Airlines. They said their planes had been buzzed by navy fighters in the same area shortly before the collision.

Identification of the airlines' 15 victims—12 passengers and three crewmen—meanwhile was proceeding slowly. All were charred beyond recognition by a fire which broke out when the plane hit the ground. Teeth provided the only means of identification.

Delta's Deficit Down To $18,488.50, Audit Shows

According to the annual report by the Michigan auditor general's department following an examination of the books and records of Delta county the county's deficit as of Dec. 31, 1948, was $18,488.50, a reduction of $3,841.70 during the past year.

"This indicated some improvement in the condition of the county general fund during the year 1948," the report continues. Further improvement could result from close adherence to the budget along with additional revenue obtainable through collections of dog licenses by enforcement of the state dog license law.

In each annual audit the attention of the county board of supervisors is directed to the need for enforcing the state dog license law.

"We found no evidence of any collections of dog licenses in Delta county during the period covered by this audit. The amount of $15.86 was disbursed from the general fund of the county for dog license tags which, we are informed, were given to the city of Escanaba for collection of dog licenses, but we found elsewhere no evidence of any such collections having been deposited with the county treasurer."

In Escanaba the dog licenses are sold through the city police department and the responsibility of dog owners is established by city ordinance. There is no enforcement of the state dog law in the townships.

The auditors also pointed out that a county board appropriation of $150 made in 1948 to the American Cancer Society is "illegal or questionable," and contrary to statute.

The submitting of bills for travel expense by various county officials should be on a travel expense voucher form "required by state uniform accounting regulations," the auditors reported. "Bills for travel expense had been approved and paid which were not properly itemized nor supported by the required receipts for lodging and public transportation," they said. Such expenditures were listed as "illegal or improper expense allowances."

Under departmental comments the various county department books and records were reported to be properly maintained and in good order.

New York Policeman In Triple Shooting

Officer Kills Ex-Wife In Bed With Carpenter

New York, Aug. 1 (AP)—After watching from a fire escape, a policeman shot and killed his ex-showgirl wife and a man as they lay nude in bed together early yesterday. He then committed suicide at the foot of the bed.

The dead: Patrolman William R. Lane, 30, of Brooklyn; his wife, Blanche, 28, a waitress, from whom he had been estranged for eight months; and Arnold Myers, 37, a carpenter with a wife and two sons.

The triple shooting occurred in the Brooklyn home of Mrs. Lane's parents, where she had been living recently.

Police pieced together this picture: Lane left himself into the apartment with a key, climbed into a fire escape and crouched in the dark. He watched from there until his blonde wife, formerly a specialty dancer at a Manhattan night club, returned home with Myers.

When the paid got into bed, Lane crept into the bedroom, shot them both and then fired a bullet into his own head with his service revolver.

The wife's father, Emil Binder, 50, found the bodies when he returned home from his all-night job as a barge man.

Police said Myers took his wife, Ruth, and two sons, Leonard, 15, and Norman, 10, to Norway early this year. He returned to this country in April to settle his business affairs here, and was to have gone back to Norway soon.

Breaks Into Church, Sleeps in Baby Bed

West Monroe, La., (AP)—Members of the Trinity Baptist church in West Monroe have turned the other cheek.

An intruder broke into their new brick church Sunday during a heavy rain. The Rev. Flier Seals and the board of deacons went into a huddle. Wednesday they ran the following notice in the Monroe News-Star:

"Someone evidently in search of a bed cut a window screen at the rear of our church Sunday night, and proceeding to the kindergarten room, crawled into an oversized baby bed where he slept for the night. So far as is known nothing in the church has been disturbed."

"We wish to state that if anyone wants a night's lodgings, he can obtain it by calling at the pastor's home next door to the church. A key to one of the five doors will be cheerfully loaned."

Three Policemen Ordered to Drink

Miami Beach, Fla., (AP)—Three Miami Beach policemen recently sat down at a table with a fifth of 100-proof bourbon and got drunk—with the blessing of their superiors and in the interest of science.

The trio were serving as guinea pigs for the city's new "drunkometer," a device for measuring the extent of intoxication. All drank two, four and 10-ounce shots of bourbon then breathed into a sterile balloon. The alcohol content was rated at .180 or better in each policeman—150 is considered drunk.

They agreed it was a staggering ordeal.

Miss Tervonen Is Home Agent

Delta county today for the first time has a Michigan State College extension service home demonstration agent with the arrival of Miss Ingrid Tervonen, transferred here from Chippewa county where she has held a similar position for the past two years.

Her work will be among rural and urban women and girls, and she will be in charge of the home extension program in the county. This week, however, she will be at Camp Shaw, Chatham, with other extension personnel during the annual Upper Peninsula gathering of 450 4-H Club members.

Born in Crystal Falls, Miss Tervonen graduated from high school there and later from Northern Michigan College of Education at Marquette. For two summers she studied home economics at Michigan State College, East Lansing, and for four years taught school at Brimley in Chippewa county.

Following her teaching experience she was employed for seven years in Delta county by the Farmers' Home Administration, and then became home demonstration agent for MSC in Chippewa county.

The Delta county board of supervisors, at the request of home-makers' units in the county, appropriated funds to participate cooperatively with the state in establishing the home demonstration office. The office of the home demonstration agent will be in the court house with that of the county agricultural agent and the 4-H Club agent.

Ester Tufty Will Take Plane Trip To Finland

Editor's Note: Esther Van Wagoner Tufty is leaving soon by plane for Finland with a group of six magazine and newspaper women on the invitation of the Finnish government and U. S. State Department.

By ESTHER TUFTY

Washington — The one thing every American knows about Finland is "she paid her World War debts."

That's repeated so often to the Finnish minister, Dr. Kalle Jutila here in Washington that he has a pat reply to the welcome praise.

"Oh, it's not worth mentioning . . . just regular business procedure."

In a few days, Finland is slated to receive another loan. The amount is 12½ million, bringing the postwar total to 50 million dollars.

The loan means a great deal to this little country unhelpfully located just this side of the Iron Curtain and burdened with a war indemnity equivalent to 300 million gold dollars to be paid to the Soviet Union over a period of 8 years.

How is the debt-paying Finland getting along economically . . . outside the Atlantic Pact, without Marshall Plan aid, and in the red shadow?

Finns Working Hard

In an exclusive interview, the Finnish Minister cited three bright factors helping Finland to get back on her feet since the war. Topping is American credit. Her forests, which cover 64 percent of her land, are supplying her profitable forest industries. And the third are the people themselves, who "are working hard to speed up recovery."

The Minister was not reluctant to speak about Russia.

Morin Funeral Will Be Held On Tuesday

Munising, Mich.—Funeral services for Wilfred Morin, 24, of East Munising, who was found at 5 a. m., Saturday lying alongside the road in Foster's addition after he presumably was struck by a hit and run driver, will be held at 9 a. m., Tuesday from Beau-lieu chapel with Rev. Gerald Harrington officiating. Burial will be made in Maple Grove cemetery.

Morin was rushed to Munising hospital after he was found by Munising police. He died about 6:55 a. m., without regaining consciousness. City and State Police and sheriff's officers are investigating. He was last seen about 2:30 a. m., Saturday, by his brother, who presumed he was going home.

Morin, who was born June 9, 1925, leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morin of East Munising, four brothers, Chester, Paul and Alfred of Munising, and Harold of Detroit; three sisters, Mrs. Arvela Vardon and Mrs. Pauline Cornish of Munising, and Mrs. Jeanette Robbins of Muskegon, and several nieces and nephews.

The official policy . . . and his personal philosophy . . . seems to be: "During the war we fought Russia. During the peace we are trying to be friendly with both the East and the West."

He added: "Finland has no economic power, no military power, nothing but moral power. And that is our strength."

More than once he mentioned "Finland is one of the oldest democracies in the world . . . we are not in the United Nations but we ardently believe in the principles upon which the UN charter is founded."

Incidentally, the communists and left-wing socialists, officially and misleadingly named "The Democratic League" political party, hold down only 38 seats in their Diet (congress) of 200 members.

The 284,290 Finnish people living in the United States will rejoice that the food situation is definitely bettered. There is "plenty of dairy produce." Then the Minister laughed and added "We are exporting that fine Swiss cheese made in Finland again."

The surplus of meat is so large Finland is exporting to Sweden, Norway, and Russia.

Food rationing is entirely abolished except for sugar and coffee. Fruit is scarce.

C&NW CANCELS PASSENGER RUN

Menominee to Green Bay Train Doesn't Pay

Menominee, Mich.—Because the train is so poorly patronized that it is causing a $150 daily deficit, the Chicago & North Western Railroad will discontinue its mid-morning and afternoon train between Menominee and Green Bay, the road announced. The train will be suspended between Aug. 15 and 25.

The train arrives here from the south daily, except Sunday, at 9:50 a. m., and departs at 2:40 p. m., in time to connect with the south-bound afternoon streamliner at Green Bay. The train carries a Pullman which leaves Chicago at 12:30 a. m. and also carries considerable mail.

The company's decision to withdraw the train was announced at a meeting in Marinette yesterday of C&NW officials and representatives of Menominee and Marinette industrial and business interests. The railroad was represented by vice president F. G. Fitzpatrick, in charge of traffic; Harvey C. Duvall, general passenger agent; Robert C. Stubbs, freight traffic manager, all of Chicago and B. W. Howe, Escanaba, of the C&NW peninsula division.

The railroad officials told the meeting the train had never paid and that in recent months its operation was costing the road $150 a day. They said some type of service would be substituted between Green Bay and Menominee, (one suggestion was air-conditioned bus which would provide passenger and mail service now offered by the train. Details of the new service will be worked out in Chicago.

Ragweed Pollen Is Beginning In U.P.

The first trace of ragweed pollen in the Upper Peninsula has appeared on slides exposed by the state health department at Manistiquette, Powers, Ironwood and Menominee, it is reported by the state health department branch laboratory at Powers.

On July 23 a count of 7 grains of pollen per cubic yard of air appeared at Manistiquette, Menominee and Ironwood, and on July 29 the count at Powers was 15. So far no trace of ragweed pollen has been found in other U. P. localities.

A count of 100 grains of ragweed pollen per cubic yard of air is considered sufficient to cause discomfort to hayfever and asthma sufferers, although some persons are more sensitive than others, according to Dr. William C. Harrison, district health director.

The highest count occurs late in summer in the Upper Peninsula, and many areas are considered "hayfever havens" because of the virtual absence of ragweed pollen.

PIPE ARCHER — This is the new electric pipe archer, one of two being used by the nation's culvert companies, which was installed this month by the Bark River Culvert and Equipment company at their Bark River plant. Operating the plant here are Martin (at right) and Ed Kwarciany, employees of the company. The archer flattens the standard rounds of steel culvert. The arched culvert, for which the company at Bark River has already had several orders, carries a larger volume of water, and helps eliminate culvert "bulging" on roadways. The machine is run by a 15 horsepower electric motor. Removable dies enable workers to use the machine with nearly all sizes of culverts. (Daily Press Photo)

CENTRAL MINE HOLDS REUNION

Production Of Copper Began In 1854

Houghton, Mich.—Many present and former residents of the Copper Country gathered at the Old Central mine location on Sunday for the annual reunion.

Anniversary services were held at the Central Mine Methodist church with Dr. John E. Marvin, a native of Laurium, in charge.

The Central mine, which in its heyday was the greatest copper mine in the world, was organized in 1854, 10 years after the discovery of copper in Keweenaw and several years after the famous Cliff mine was opened to the south. Production of copper began at Central in 1855 and continued until 1898, when operations ceased. During that time the mine produced 52,000,000 pounds of copper and paid $2,130,000 in dividends.

The output was remarkable, especially in view of the fact that all of the underground work was of the hand type, drilling being of the hammer-and-drill style, one man holding and twisting the drill while another drove the drill with a hammer. Mining was in fissure formation throughout the property, although some work was done in veins along the fissure. Two main shafts were operated, from which nearly all of the tonnage was taken. Three other shafts were operated, one being about 100 feet deep, another reached as far as the third level and the third was bottomed at about the sixth level.

A small mill was erected at Central and the vein rock taken out was processed in this mill, with a measure of success, although the amount of copper recovered in the mill was negligible when compared with the amount taken out in mass from the fissures. The operation expanded quickly and by 1860 the community was the largest mining camp in the country. Churches, schoolhouses and stores were built and the place became the metropolis of Keweenaw, outshining the Cliff and Phoenix properties, which had their own little business sections.

Monuments to Pioneers

The ruins of the mining buildings stand as monuments to the hardy pioneers who trekked to Central to work in the mine and establish homes there. Many of the houses still remain and are being used by Copper Country people as summer homes. Each year for many years the former members of the little Methodist church at Central hold a reunion at the church, which has been kept in a splendid state of repair. These reunions attract a large crowd each year, many of the homecomers traveling several hundred miles to gather with old friends and neighbors.

All supplies for the Central, as well as other inland communities in Keweenaw, were brought to the district by boat and shipments of copper were made by return boat. Eagle River and Eagle Harbor were the active ports. Ample docking facility was built at these places and the summer found them busy with shipping business. Residents of Central laid in a store of food supplies each fall, filling the larder with barrels of flour, apples, smoked meats and fish. The forest provided nearly everyone there with plenty of venison during the winter months.

Travel between the towns was steady. Those who were fortunate rode on the mining company sleighs or caught a ride with the store team. Others walked to their destinations. It was a common feat to walk to Calumet, 20 miles each way. Calumet mushroomed suddenly after the discovery of the conglomerate lode and those who worked in the mines in Keweenaw made it a point to go to Calumet for their holidays.

During the summer months hundreds of people visit the old Central property and roam among the ruins of the place, seeking souvenirs, taking pictures and dreaming of the days when it was a busy little town. Scores of stories about the place have been told and written by those who formerly lived there. Many of the people who were residents there, still live in this district and love to re-

COUNTY AGENT CARGO RESIGNS

Will Succeed Clanahan As Crops Specialist

Houghton, Mich. — William Cargo, agricultural agent of Houghton and Keweenaw counties since May 1, 1941, submitted his resignation to the Agricultural committee of the board of supervisor at a meeting at the court house in order that he might accept an appointment as Extension Specialist in Farm Crop and Soil Science.

Inasmuch as the new appointment is a definite promotion in the Extension Service of Michigan State College and the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the committee assured Mr. Cargo that his request would be granted, although with regret.

Mr. Horwood, District Extension supervisor, who was also at the meeting, stated that Mr. Cargo will assume the duties of Crops Specialist D. L. Clanahan, who has been transferred to Lower Michigan, as well as some new ones dealing with soil management.

Mr. Cargo's work will be confined to the 15 counties of the Upper Peninsula, with headquarters in Marquette. The appointment is effective on Sept. 1.

Before coming to Houghton, Mr. Cargo had four and a half years of experience as agricultural and 4-H club agent in a district consisting of Mackinac, Luce, Schoolcraft and Alger counties. The remainder of the time following his graduation from Michigan State College in 1922 was about equally divided between farming and the retail lumber business in Lower Michigan.

Reds in Yugoslavia Denounce Vatican's Ban On Communism

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Aug. 1 (AP)—The official organ of Yugoslav Communists has denounced the Vatican's excommunication of Communists as "a political tool of the reactionaries."

Ever mindful of the feud with other Communist countries, which contend the Yugoslavs have strayed from the path of pure Marxism, the newspaper Borda could not resist the opportunity for a thrust at the Moscow-style Reds.

Borda said the excommunication degree might prove a headache in those Communist parties "who recruit members without considering whether or not they have accepted the principles of Marxism and Leninism."

The newspaper said the Vatican action was aimed at the world's "Progressive Forces" and repeated old charges that the Vatican helped Fascists during the war.

14th Street Widening Project Begins

THE widening of South 14th street will begin today by a city crew, launching a project that has been generally recognized for several years as essential for the elimination of a serious traffic condition.

Some opposition to the 14th street widening project has developed from property owners in that area. That is understandable enough because the widening of the street probably will invite even more traffic than now exists, which is not exactly desirable in a strictly residential area. The point is, however, that South 14th street is an arterial street and has been for many, many years. The traffic is already heavy, certainly too heavy for the width of the street.

Property owners were faced with the choice of two alternatives. Either the street must be widened or restrictions against parking must be invoked. The widening of the street is certainly the more desirable solution to the problem, both for motorists and for property owners who naturally desire to retain their parking privileges on the street.

The city has indicated that South 10th street, another arterial route connecting with Lake Shore Drive, also will be widened this summer, after the 14th street project is completed.

Tourist Gouging Is Unprofitable

THE Sault Ste. Marie (Ontario) Chamber of Commerce has made a direct approach to the problem of tourist gouging in its area. Admitting that there are some grounds for the complaint of the Chicago Automobile club regarding unfair treatment of tourists in the Soo, Ontario, district, the Chamber of Commerce of that city has announced that it will blacklist resort operators and others engaged in such practices.

The quickest way to destroy tourist trade is by means of gouging. A majority of businessmen, particularly resort operators, recognize this and make a conscientious effort to avoid this practice.

If there has been gouging, of tourists in the Canadian Soo—and apparently there has been—the Sault Chamber of Commerce is moving in the right direction to choke it off.

The unfavorable publicity directed at the Canadian city should serve as a lesson to the resort operators in that community—and also a lesson for resort owners throughout the Upper Peninsula.

The competition for resort business has grown exceptionally keen. Only those areas and those resorts that are fair in their treatment of guests can expect to command a share in the business.

Johannesburg Get-Rich-Quick-Town

ONE of South Africa's most spectacular gold booms has been at least partially deflated, after a fortnight of wild buying on the stock exchange and some near panic selling.

Johannesburg, center of the famous Rand gold reef operations, has had the gold fever for years. It's a natural feeling, with so many rich strikes extending over a long period on the Rand.

The latest reputed banana was found on the Erfdel farm near the city, and what South Africa wants to know now is whether the find is fabulously rich or merely another rich discovery.

The original Erfdel report was that a test boring had brought up ore that assayed 58,000 inch pennyweights. An inch pennyweight is the standard measurement of gold, arrived at by multiplying the width of a reef, or formation, in inches by its yield valued in pennyweights for each ton. A pennyweight is one-twentieth of a Troy ounce.

Then the South African government took a hand. It began making tests under police supervision, and ordered that all assays be made in the presence of a government assayer. Later assays came out at 231, 271 and 281 pennyweights average, showing profitable ore but nothing spectacular.

So the boom blew up, but prospectors are working in many parts of the new field, and the get-rich-quick fever has by no means abated. "It's the journey that counts, not the destination," said Voltaire, and if some of these prospectors did strike an El Dorado, probably it would be the worst thing that could happen to them. In the meantime they are having a real good time, and are dreaming rosy dreams of happy days.

Clark Won't Give Prestige To Court

PRESIDENT TRUMAN's nomination of Attorney General Tom Clark to the U. S. supreme court to fill the vacancy created by the death of Frank Murphy has been referred to in newspaper dispatches as a surprise, but in reality it is not much of a surprise at all. Virtually all of President Truman's appointments to important jobs have been given to his political friends, so it is not too surprising that this choice appointment would also be made by the president along political lines.

The nomination of Clark to the supreme bench is not likely to develop any serious objection within the senate, which must confirm the nomination. That does not mean, however, that the choice is a particularly good one. It had been hoped that Mr. Truman would select an outstanding jurist for this vacancy on the supreme court, particularly since the court has lost much stature in recent years.

Not only did the president miss this opportunity to restore some of the court's lost prestige by appointing a man with considerable judicial experience, but he also indicated, by indirection, that if there is another vacancy on the court to be filled during his term of office, it would go to Senator Howard McGrath, named to succeed Clark as attorney general. Like Clark, McGrath is strictly a politician, totally lacking in the judicial experience that should be a prerequisite for appointment to the nation's highest court.

BLUEBERRIES AND PIE

On July 30, 1831, a Henry Schoolcraft wrote in his record book as he was travelling down the Namokagum river in northwestern Wisconsin. "Both banks of the river are literally covered with ripe whortleberry—it is large and delicious. The Indians feast on it. Thousands on thousands of bushels of this fruit could be gathered with little labor. It is seen in the dried state in every lodge. All careful Indian housewives dry it. It is used as a seasoning to soups." Very few families dry blueberries today but many groups plan on one or more expeditions to furnish the wherewithal for pies, puddings and muffins. And all fore-sighted housewives should put up plenty for pies and muffins in the winter.

First of all, this nonsense about huckleberries should be settled. Huckleberries have a place of course, if one cannot get blueberries. The former have 10 sizable nutlets that are a nuisance; blueberries have tiny seeds. Huckleberries are not as juicy; they have a slightly different flavor. If a man has never had blueberries, one sympathizes with his vociferous defense of the huckleberry. Loyalty is a commendable trait—even if one is misled. Probably the berry the Wisconsin explorer saw was the huckleberry, since "whortleberry" is a European name for the European blue berry—more like the huckle than the blue.

We earnestly wish all cooks would learn to make blueberry pie correctly. There is only one cook in a hundred who makes the bottom crust thick enough so a wedge can be lifted without disaster. Furthermore, women don't make their pies thick enough. All pies should be sufficiently deep so a man can get a decent-sized mouthful. Mix a cup of sugar and flour together and put half of this on the bottom crust before the berries go in. Next put in half the berries and spread a quarter cup of the flour and sugar; toss on the rest of the berries and spread the balance of the flour-sugar combination. Scatter four or five pieces of butter or margarine the size of bluebirds' eggs before you tuck on the top crust. Puncture the top crust so the blue juice will bubble through and paint a futuristic picture. It cannot be proved, but one believes if Jupiter had had blueberry pie on Mount Olympus, nectar and ambrosia would never have received more than passing notice.—By Haydn Pearson.

THE PRICE OF VANITY—$20 (Grand Rapids Press)

Soon or late, vanity is bound to get a person in trouble. To prove it, there's the case of Raymond R. Cole of Gaines, Pa. He was so proud of having caught a 28-inch brown trout with his bare hands he had the fish mounted and put on view in a local tavern. Cole's fame spread when a postcard-maker took a picture of the catch and sold copies around the countryside. It spread all the way to the ears of a justice of the peace who was up on his fish laws. He haled Cole into court and fined him $20 and costs—for having violated a Pennsylvania law which makes catching fish by hand illegal. Cole would have been better off if he had taken a picture of the trout when he caught it and then had tossed the fish back into the stream. That way he could have saved his vanity by exhibiting a photo of the "big one that got away" and could have used part of his $20 for a good fish dinner to boot.

Kowtow. Webster's New International shows ko-TOW to rhyme with go NOW. But it is seldom if ever heard in American speech. Webster's ko-TOW (the phonetic spelling is mine, not Webster's) is an attempt to reproduce the sound of the Chinese k'o-t'ou, which means "knock head." Kowtow is English in both spelling and meaning. Why not let it go at that? A stack of dictionaries would not convince the American people that "kow" must rhyme with go, if "tow" rhymes with now.

The newer and more realistic dictionaries rhyme both syllables with now; and that's the way kowtow is pronounced in Standard American speech: kow-tow, to rhyme with how now.

Hoover Plan Will Not Save Billions

BY PETER EDSON

Washington.—How much money is going to be saved for the taxpayer by reorganization of the federal government? There has been some loose mention of possible savings of from three to four billion dollars.

These hopeful assurances have been made following publication of the score of reports by ex-President Hoover's commission on organization of the executive branch of government.

Anyone interested in playing a little game of "Who Said That?" finds trouble in pinning down the answer. In one broadcast, Mr. Hoover did say he thought minimum savings of $3,000,000,000 might be made. But nowhere in the reports of his commission and his task forces is it explained where these savings are coming from.

Truth of the matter is that many of the Hoover commission experts seemed to be afraid of sticking their necks out. Careful examination of their reports reveals only half a dozen places in which definite amounts were mentioned as possible savings by reorganization.

In the report on department of agriculture, savings of $80,000,000 were indicated. Functional reorganization of the department—shifting its jobs around from bureau to another so as to provide more efficient management—was estimated to result in $44,000,000 savings. The other $36,000,000 could be achieved by changing the law governing operations of the various farm credit agencies.

LITTLE HOPE OF SAVINGS

It has been generally understood that the biggest savings will be made through further reorganization of the armed services. Mr. Hoover himself has testified he thought savings of from $1,000,000,000 to $1,500,000,000 might be made here. The economies are expected to come through centralization of some functions, elimination of duplication and waste.

Legislation to permit Defense Secretary Louis Johnson to effect this reorganization now seems certain of passage, after a long tie-up in the house of representatives. But the savings may be zero in the coming 12 months. The reason is that congress last year authorized the armed services to make contracts for expenditures of $1,500,000,000 more than it appropriated money for. So Secretary Johnson finds himself in the embarrassing position of having to save $1,500,000,000 just to meet current expenses.

The next biggest chunk of savings is expected to come from better personnel management in government. Since the war, the turnover of federal employment has been as high as from three to five per cent a month. That means from 700,000 to 1,000,000 new employees a year.

The total government payroll is now about $6,000,000,000. This includes the pay of the armed services. The Hoover commission task force which studied government personnel problems estimated that it should be possible to make a 10 per cent reduction. This would mean a saving of $600,000,000 a year.

The task force which studied government purchasing methods estimated that a minimum of $250,000,000 might be saved by better procurement procedures. This task force also said that government inventories might be reduced by as much as $2,500,000,000. But these savings would not be made in any one year.

Better handling of government records was estimated to make possible savings of $16,000,000 a year. The Hoover commission made studies of typical government file cabinets. There are, incidentally, 330,000,000 file cabinets, occupying 2,000,000 cubic feet of space.

FILE COSTS $29 A YEAR

The commission found that cost of the cabinets, plus overhead for heat, light and service, cost $29 a year for each four-drawer file cabinet. Every time the contents of one file cabinet were transferred to cardboard cartons in the steel racks of a central records office, the saving was $27 a year.

For the Post Office department, the Hoover commission recommended that the auxiliary services be made self-supporting. Included were the service costs on money orders, post cards, special delivery, registered, insured and COD mail. Raising the rates to bring in an estimated $113,000,000 would make these services self-sustaining and be equivalent to a saving of that amount.

The total of all these estimated savings is $2,559,000,000. The net saving—if military and agricultural savings can be effected this year, is $979,000,000. Public Affairs Institute of Washington has just made a survey indicating that the actual savings will be only about $300,000,000 a year.

logistics, "military transportation and supply, and movement of bodies of troops." The "g" is not hard as in log. It should have the sound of "j," thus: loe-JISS-tiks.

Malfeasance. Malfeasance, noun, "misconduct; an unlawful act, especially by a public official." From the French mal, "evil," plus faisant, "doing." How to use it: He was threatened with impeachment for malfeasance in office. Say: mal-FEE-sans.

Marijuana. Marijuana (also spelled marihuana) is an American-Spanish word of uncertain origin. In Latin America one sees several spellings: marihuana, marihuana, marihuana, marihuana. However, it now seems fairly certain that in the United States the spelling marijuana widely prevails.

In pronunciation the word is strongly flavored by the Spanish, which is: MAH-reo-HWAH-nah. In American usage the customary pronunciation is: MAR-uh-WAH-nuh, the first syllable as in marry.

Mauve. Mauve suggests an "aw" sound, as in fraud, gauge, jaunt, which accounts for the mispronunciation "mawv." But the word is from the French, and in the language "au" has the sound of "oh." Mauve, then, should rhyme with stove. Say: mohv.

Good Evening

PLACE NAMES.—"Your article on place names in Tuesday's paper was most interesting," writes Cheever Buckbee of Escanaba.

"Let's change the name" is an old and popular game, he continues, adding that many of these changes are to the good.

"We have too many lakes named Duck, Round, Bass, Deer, etc., in Michigan. And the change from Hog Island to Belle Isle in the Detroit river is okay, since both the hogs and the snakes they exterminated are things of the past."

CLOSER HOME.—"Many name changes have occurred in our own district," Cheever reports, "and I give you a few of them for local historians to argue over."

"Lake Mada was once the name of the present Schaave Lake; Mush-kel-warg-a-wag (hope I have spelled it correctly) is now Moss Lake; Pickerel River to Ogontz River; and Mallman Creek to Mormon Creek, this last an injustice to an early Isabella settler and supervisor. There have been changes in the Grand Traverse Island name, and few people today have heard the names L. au Tour, Brule I., and Palmetto Island named for Washington Island. Detroit Island seems to have been its original name."

CONTEMPORARY.—There are few contemporaries who have lakes or rivers named for them. The last person we know of who was proposed to be honored by naming a geographical location for him is George Bishop, secretary-manager of the U. S. Development Bureau, Marquette.

It was suggested that a hill in Porcupine Mountain state park be named Bishop Peak. Whether this was done we do not know. Another proposal was to name the Rapid River roadside park Bishop Park when a plaque honoring Bishop was erected there a few years ago. The park is still "the roadside park at Rapid River."

Two of the smallest towns in the Upper Peninsula, named for a famous man, are Kipling in Delta and Rudyard in Chippewa counties. The English poet recognized the honor with an uninspired little verse titled "My Two Sons in Michigan."

WAS IT FORT RIVER?—For what it is worth, Cheever Buckbee offers the following information about a Delta county place name:

"Years ago I was told that the white man originally called Ford River 'Fort River,' so named from a very early trading post or fort at the mouth of the stream. I have never been able to verify this and the only written evidence I have are some copies of the original U. S. Survey. These are very old and were used by land men for the C&N.W. railway company some years before the first railroad surveys. On these maps the river is named Fort River."

At the recent Ford River Pioneer Day program sponsored by the Delta county Historical Society, Harold Fuller of Lansing, who was born at Ford River, offered the following on the origin of the name Ford River:

"The name is attributed to Thomas Ford, a governor of Illinois, who had in 1812-13 explored a portion of the Upper Peninsula and had mentioned the river in his history of Illinois."

This speculation on the Ford River name recalls my own little adventure into tracing the origin of the name Danforth, a community west of Escanaba. One informant told me Danforth correctly should be "Danford" because it was named for Dan Ford. Old-timers of that area quickly and completely refuted the statement. For Danforth was named for one of its earliest settlers, the Danforth family.

QUESTIONS.—There are many questions concerning place names that, if answered, would lead far back into the history of those communities.

Garth has been known by that name since 1872 when the Garth Lumber company, a Wisconsin concern, bought out the mill. But what was the original name of that community?

Portage Point has been so named for nearly one hundred years. Why is it called Portage? And who did the portaging, if any?

Buckbee has a question he would like answered: "I wonder if any of your readers ever heard of Smith Creek? If so, I will appreciate receiving their names and addresses."

MAP OF NAMES.—It is suggested by Buckbee that a worthwhile undertaking for some qualified person would be "to prepare a map of our county showing the original place names. I suggest Dick (R. P.) Mason as the man to do the work and will show him old maps bearing the above original names. Then again, it might be a waste of time.

Mason now lives in Negaunee but is familiar with Delta county, where he was employed as state highway engineer and in other capacities for many years. Perhaps the Historical Society might persuade Cheever Buckbee to undertake the original-name map. He also is qualified.

Local Roads

Dear Editor:

Many letters have been received during the past year from Taxpayers of Delta County calling attention to poor road conditions in their areas.

Most letters received indicate the common phrase "My taxes have been raised but nothing has been done on my road." This above phrase immediately shows that the writer is not familiar with the distribution of his taxes. He does know that his road needs work on it, and that he has paid out money in taxes for something.

For the information of these Taxpayers, NOT ONE PENNY OF LAND OR PROPERTY TAXES GOES TOWARD THE CONSTRUCTION OR MAINTENANCE OF YOUR ROADS.

The only source of road revenue is the 3 cents tax you pay for each gallon of gasoline you buy and the fee you pay for your license plate.

It may be of interest that the average gasoline tax over the nation averages 4.8 cents and the price of gasoline averages 25.3 cents. In Michigan the gasoline tax is 3 cents and we still pay 25.6 cents per gallon, based on 1948 prices. This means we pay two cents less in state taxes, yet the price of gasoline in Michigan is the same! How Come?

In a recent congressional hearing where this point was brought up, one of the senators asked the Michigan Good Roads Federation representative, "If this is the case, then why don't the People of Michigan get smart?"

Your Road Commission has plans for, and is familiar with the needs of your roads, but until the people on the local level make it their business to see that action is taken to provide whatever funds are necessary to put these plans into operation, the plans will lay dormant in the files and the condition of the road system will continue to grow worse.

It is possible to provide a "dollars worth of roads" for a dollar, but when the dollars provided are depleted it is impossible to continue on hopes, promises, or desires. Petitions, threatening letters, raised voices, build no roads; dollars do.

Your Road Commission received $46,875.00 less in income this year. The attempt to raise $106,000.00 per year more for Delta County Roads was blocked by action of the State Legislature (including the vote representing Delta County).

The realization of better roads, awaits action by the people.

Sincerely yours,
William J. Karas,

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—All is not harmony inside the Republican national committee as it nears the job of picking a new chairman. It was hoped that when Pennsylvania's Hugh Scott, a Dewey man, resigned, diverse G. O. P. factions would bury the hatchet and pull together. But they haven't.

Today, there is just about as much inside dissension as there was over controversial Hugh Scott.

This time the feuding is over the top candidate for the chairmanship—Guy Gabrielson of Bernardsville, N. J., national committeeman from New Jersey.

Last week the chairmanship appeared to be all set for Gabrielson. Since then, sudden and stiff opposition has developed. For one thing, it is strongly suspected that he is a Stassen man. Even more important, Republican congressmen from New Jersey are almost solidly opposed. En bloc they called on ex-Speaker Joe Martin, and registered their objection. Usually it's an honor to have a national chairman selected from your state, but in this case New Jersey congressmen wanted to forego the honor—if Gabrielson is to be the man.

Another strike against Gabrielson is the fact that he is from the east, and that Scott's resignation was forced because a mid-westerner was needed as chairman. (Gabrielson was born in Sioux Rapids, Ia., but has lived in New Jersey for some time.)

KANSAS' DARBY IS FAVORITE

Another complaint is that at the last Omaha meeting of the G. O. P., Mrs. Reeve Schley of New Jersey, whose husband is vice president of the Chase National Bank, wanted to be on the executive committee in place of Mrs. Worthington Scranton of Scranton, Pa. Accordingly, Mrs. Scranton was persuaded to resign in favor of Mrs. Schley, following which Gabrielson did not pass this choice plum to Mrs. Schley but usurped it for himself. This made many people sore.

Meanwhile, a lot of wires are being pulled to put Gabrielson across. His chief backers are Texas Committeeman Renfro Creager, Arizona's novelist Clarence Buddington Kelland, Harrison Spangler of Iowa, Senator Brewster of Maine, and Sam Pryor, former committeeman from Connecticut and vice president of Pan American Airways.

Pryor has even secured the help of a public-relations firm, Andrew Gahagen of 207 Park avenue, New York, to put Gabrielson across, and one of its representatives, Lee McCann, has been in Washington buttonholing the boys.

Note.—Top candidate for the G. O. P. chairmanship if Gabrielson doesn't make it is Harry Darby, G. O. P. committeeman from Kansas, who is chairman of the Kansas City Airways and of the Kansas Palomino Horse Exhibitors association. Darby is acceptable to Dewey and most other factions but doesn't seem to want the job.

JOHN FOSTER DULLES' NEW JOB

It may or may not have been significant, but John Foster Dulles, the famed new senator from New York, has been appointed to the senate committee governing the District of Columbia. In voteless Washington this means that he will have a great deal to say about governing Washington—including its public utilities.

Significantly, it happens that the Dulles law firm, Sullivan and Cromwell, is attorney for the Washington Gas Light company, also for the Potomac Electric company, also for the Washington RR and Transit Co., which owns the Capital Transit Co.

At the time when Senator Dulles was appointed to the District of Columbia committee, these utilities are asking for rate increases, while the Washington Railway and Electric Co. proposes the sale of its 44 per cent interest in the capital Transit Co. to outside interests.

In fairness to Senator Dulles, it should be noted that he wanted appointment to the foreign relations committee. When no opening developed, Senator Schoepel of Kansas was moved off the District of Columbia committee, and Dulles took his place. Senator Dulles remarked, incidentally, that he knew nothing about D. C. problems with the exception of the bill to kill the capital's population of starlings. Though he liked birds, he said he did not like starlings.

HOW GENERAL WANTED PROMOTION
Here is one inside reason why Gen. Alden Waitt, chief of the army's chemical warfare section, got suspended for dealing with lobbyist James V. Hunt, close friend of General Harry Vaughan, White House military aide.

General Waitt has been chief of the chemical warfare section for nearly four years, and ordinarily chiefs of army bureaus are not reappointed. They are transferred to the field. However, Waitt wanted to continue in his lush Washington office in which—after quite a howl—he had just installed a new tile bathroom, kitchenette, air cooling, etc.

GRAMMAR PETS ANNOY RUARK

Wants To Be Rid Of Functionless Frills

By ROBERT C. RUARK

New York.—Got up the other day feeling pretty grunted. The sun was shining and I felt fairly shevelled as I tied my tie. Reasonably kempt. Not peccable at all. Only a man with a neck full of feck can know exactly how I felt.

This is not to say that I am without daunt, but merely that I am with reck. I've got as much reck as feet in my neck. And if I blush to say it, even if I am the fellow whose argument is sometimes footful, quite often my constituents are dauntful of me.

But even all these odd attributes do not prevent me from knocking the English language, which is gradually working itself out of a job. It is boobytrapped today with a flock of words and housewares I would just love to mothball in the Smithsonian Institution.

Disgruntled, for instance. Ever know anybody who was grunted? Cuspidor, for Pete's sake. Who cusps. Feckless. You know anybody's got a hunk of feck. Ever try to buy a half-pound of daunt? If a man is sometimes feckless, footless or disdauntful, when does he possess a nominal amount of feck, foot or daunt?

Even since I was old enough to cuss I have been sore at the word "whom." It is as unnecessary as a chaperone on a honeymoon. It means exactly the same thing as "who," but it is an awkward word that sneaks and creeps and peeks around in a sentence, like a peeping Tom.

Same thing with "which." "What" and "that." I've been eating off a typewriter since I was 20 and I'm still not sure of when to use them. To avoid the bother of fretting over the correct choice, I'd gladly settle for either "whach" or maybe "thich" and save everybody a lot of needless trouble.

My original impression of language was that it was designed to carry messages. But the shapers of speech gradually got so impressed with their importance that they weighed it down with a flock of fromal trivialities and bylaws that serve no purpose except to annoy. This business about prepositions, which and or that you're not supposed to end a sentence with. Why the devil aren't you? What difference does it make whether a lousy, skimpy little word like "with" walks at the head, tail or middle of a sentence? And that "whom," again. I've spent half of my reading life reshuffling sentences, trying to get the "whom" sorted out of the clutter.

Does a man say "to whom do you suppose she is married, now?" When all he wants is a simple answer like "No" or "Joe Smith?" He does not, indeed. He says "Who's she married to now, y'know?" Because an answer as cheap as either "No" or "Joe Smith" is certainly not worth a lot of brain belaboring.

We come presently to the "if" before "e" except after "c" stupidity that they hit the kids with. It can make no tiny difference if the word "receive" is spelt that way, or if it is spelt "recieve." Same letters. Same number of letters. Same sound, same meaning. Who gets cheated?

When you say "a bunch of people were fighting in the street" you are dead wrong, and have to go prowling all the way back to the head of the sentence to remember that "bunch" is singular and must agree with the other end so it comes out "a bunch was fighting." Phooey. Everybody says "were" unless they are showing off for the preacher.

I am often knocked for overusing the word "ain't." "Ain't" is a fine, hardworking, dues-paying word, the actual social superior of "am not" which connotes supercilious refusal to comply, or the sissified "aren't." But both "Ain't" and "aren't" carry a parasite—a nasty little mark called an "apostrophe," a pipsqueak squiggle that has been living off its relatives for years and should be fired into the street.

You will forgive my outburst, but since I am a kind of hodgepodge of the language, my neck bows when they overload the hod with inferior bricks. The prettiest sentence I can remember, in the modern language, was when the apeman looked at the girl and

RESEARCH 'LAB' OPENED BY CCI

To Study Beneficiation Of Iron Ore

Ishpeming.—The Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's new research laboratory was opened here last week when a large number of Ishpeming and Negaunee residents inspected the building at the invitation of the company. The "lab" second on the Marquette range, was started just a little more than a year ago. It is modern in every detail.

Beneficiation of iron ore will be the chief purpose of the laboratory. Chemical analysis work of the company will be continued in the laboratory at the Cliffs shaft. The new building is 42 by 122 feet, with full basement, and is two stories high.

The entrance is at the northwest corner and is largely of glass. It opens into a spacious reception room, off which is office space.

The largest portion of the building is devoted to space for equipment. The "auditorium" has large windows in the lower portion of the front and glass brick is used in the upper portion at the normal second-floor level.

Equipment includes a spiral classifier, ball mill, conditioner, six-bank flotation cells, hydro-separator, Humphrey spiral, sink float machine, magnetic separator, vibrating screen and Wilfey table. A sample preparation room also is located on the ground floor.

The second floor of the building is devoted to a testing laboratory, conference room and one which will be used as a photography "dark room."

The basement contains a vault, heating plant and air conditioning unit but the main portion is devoted to ore sample storage and a crushing room.

The building is air-conditioned throughout and the use of glazed said, quote, me Tarzan, you Jane. That one had everything and it wasn't weighted down a lick by functionless frivolities.

Ruffed Grouse Make Comeback in State

Ruffed grouse appear to be coming back in Michigan as rapidly as in Wisconsin and Minnesota, which states resorted to closed seasons for three and four years to increase stock, a survey by the Michigan conservation department's game division reveals.

Michigan cover and climatic conditions are fairly similar to those in the other two Great Lakes states, says G. A. Ammann, division grouse specialist.

All three states started to experience a ruffed grouse population decline in 1943, he says, and Minnesota closed the hunting season on this game animal in 1944-47, as did Wisconsin in 1945-47. These two states opened the season last year, and for 1948 Minnesota computed her kill at 354,000, Wisconsin at 250,000, while Michigan's computed kill was 335,000 birds.

RUWITCH GOES TO MSC PARLEY

Economic Workshop Will Be Held Aug. 1-19

Seeking solutions to some of the nation's toughest economic problems, more than 75 educators, secondary school administrators, and businessmen from all over the state will meet August 1-19 with top governmental and business authorities at Michigan State College's first Economic Workshop.

Built around the idea that economic and social problems of our society are becoming increasingly complex and crucial, the workshop is designed to develop a program of economic education at the community level.

"The workshop's purpose is two-pronged," according to Carl H. Horn, MSC's director of continuing education. "Educators and businessmen alike will map plans for teaching ordinary citizens fundamentals of economic and social policy. Secondary purpose is to inform educators of their responsibilities for developing competence of youth in the area of economic citizenship."

Dark Swim Suit
Minimizes Size

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

The woman who says she's "too old" to wear bathing suits isn't on her own fashions.

She can find as many smart suits of the cover-up type as she can styles of breath-taking brevity. Ready to give her a flattering fit is a wide variety of suits with built-in bras, elasticized midriff bands, longer, slightly flared skirts made in quick-drying fabric which won't cling while wet. Such a swim suit plus a toss-on beach jacket or coat will turn her out on the beach as modestly dressed as any Miss Prim.

The woman who feels self-conscious in a swim suit because she is overweight can find fashions that will do much to minimize size. Her choice of color should be a dark one: black, navy or deep gray. The longer her skirt can be, within fashion's limits, and the less flared it is, the slimmer she will look in the beach parade.

Escanaba Barber
Shop Chorus Will Sing At Blaney

The general public has been invited to attend an outdoor concert by the Escanaba Barber Shop chorus at Blaney Park on Sunday, August 7, according to Edward Dreier, manager of the resort.

The 35 voice chorus, under the direction of Sam Ham, will present one concert at 4:30 p. m. on the lawn adjacent to The Inn and another in the Knotty Pine Dining Room during the dinner hour. In case of bad weather the outside program will be shifted to the Paul Bunyan Playhouse.

Escanaba's Barber Shop chorus has been acclaimed as an outstanding choral group wherever it has appeared in northern Michigan. The group, a member of the international "Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc.", sings in true Gay Ninety style. Its director is a former college music professor, and specializes in an imitation of the late Harry Lauder. The chorus appeared in Sault Ste. Marie earlier this year, and on August 28 will compete in a tri-state contest in Sheboygan, Wis.

There will be no admission charge for the concert, Blaney Park offering this as a new entertainment service to its guests and the general public.

Newcombe, Dodger Hurler, Turns Tables On His Nemesis, The Cards

(By The Associated Press)

Don Newcombe, big Negro righthander of the Brooklyn Dodgers who has had his ups and downs, has something to smile about today. He's turned the tables on his chief tormentors—the St. Louis Cardinals.

Solidly cuffed in three previous encounters with the rollicking Red Birds, Newcombe clipped the league-leaders, 4-2, yesterday to snap the Cards' nine-game winning streak and put the Bums back in the National league race.

The Cards spoiled Newcombe's major league debut on May 20, socking him for four hits and three runs in a third of an inning. The next time the two met, the Cards belted Newcombe out of the box in the ninth inning with a three-run rally and went on to win in overtime.

Newcombe's third brush against the Birds occurred a week ago Sunday and what the Cards did to him shouldn't happen. He couldn't get anybody out in the first inning. The Cards breezed to a 14-1 victory and took over first place from the Dodgers.

Yesterday, however, Newcombe had the Cards' number. The largest St. Louis crowd of the season, 32,965 fans saw the big fellow check the Cards on eight hits.

He blanked the league leaders until the ninth when singles by Ron Northey, Glen Nelson and Lou Klein plus Duke Snider's first error of the season allowed the Cards to score twice. Newcombe got pinch-hitter Bill Baker to ground out to end the game.

The victory cut the Cards' advantage over the Dodgers to one and a half games.

Meanwhile, the New York Yankees stretched their American league lead to four games over the second place Cleveland Indians.

The Yanks split a twin bill with the Chicago White Sox, taking the opener, 3-2, and dropping the nightcap, 2-1, in ten innings. The Indians were blanked, 3-0, by Maurice McDermott and the Red Sox in Boston.

Dom DiMaggio of the Red Sox collected one hit to extend his consecutive game hitting streak to 27.

South All-Stars Beat North, 11-8; In Rainbow Melee

Trenary, Aug. 1—The South beat the North, 11-8, in the annual Rainbow Baseball league all-star contest here yesterday.

It was a triumph for Russ Druckenmiller, dependable Trenary hurler who occupied the mound for the southerners for the first five innings and stepped aside when the South had a 7-2 lead. The North rallied for four runs in the top of the ninth but it wasn't enough to catch the you-all boys.

Bob Denton, of Doriot, was charged with the defeat. Trombley, of Gwinn, finished on the North mound and whiffed four and cracked out a pair of doubles to help the North cause.

Mason Rhoads, Manistique's home run king, got two hits in as many times at bat and Kennedy, Gladstone ace, got two for three.

Nationals Eke Out 7-6 Victory Over Oldtimers In All-Star Softball Go

The National league all-stars eke out a 7 to 6 victory over the Oldtimer all-stars in a thrilling 10-inning battle at Memorial Field last Saturday night.

The Oldtimers displaying excellent pitching and powerful hitting but went down fighting in the face of eight costly errors.

Most of the Oldtimers' six runs were pushed across by long hits, while the Nationals scored seven times as a result of loose fielding by the Oldtimers and four successful bunts.

The Oldtimers drew first blood when Moose Smithwick tripled into right center field to drive in Willie Duquette in the first inning. The Nationals came right back with two runs in their first time up. Joe Aiken walked and was sacrificed to second base by Buddy Lavolette. Paul Vardigan hit a double into left field to score Aiken with the first National run. Gerald Dufour also doubled to score Vardigan and make the score, 2 to 1.

The Oldtimers tied it up in the second when Niquist got on on an error and eventually scored on a wild pitch. The Nationals went ahead, 3-2, in the fourth inning with Tippy Legault singling home Gerald Dufour who had led off with his second hit. They added two more in the fifth with Joe Aiken and Ding DeGrand crossing the plate when the left-fielder missed Paul Vardigan's fly ball.

The Nationals increased their lead, 6-2, as Art Peterson scored from third when the third-baseman muffed Ding DeGrand's grounder. In the eighth the Oldtimers closed the gap as the result of three walks and a booming triple by Chuck Perryman, making the score 6 to 5. In the first half of the ninth, they tied it up with Vern Boyle scoring from third after Job Anderson's fly to the short fielder.

The Nationals won the game in the last half of the tenth inning when Ding DeGrand led off with a triple just inside the right field foul line. Paul Vardigan laid down a surprise bunt which trickled between the pitcher's legs to score DeGrand with the winning run.

The presentation of the wrist watch to Kestizky was made by Ken Gundersman, on behalf of the Liberty Loans. Kestizky responded with a brief acceptance speech and was given a rousing ovation from the fans.

Kositzky Receives Wrist Watch, But Loans Bow, 7 to 3

It was Louie Kositzky night at Memorial Field last night and the veteran pitcher of the Liberty Loans, winner of the outstanding pitcher award of the Softball association last year, was presented with a self-winding, waterproof wrist watch as a remembrance of the occasion.

But the Loans fell apart in the field, committed eight errors as the Escanaba Paper Mill team defeated Kositzky and the Liberty Loans, 7 to 3, in the feature nine-inning game.

Kositzky gave up only five hits, the same number as Paul Larson who pitched for the Paper Mill, but the Mill played flawless ball. That was the margin between the teams. The Paper Mill team scored four runs in the second inning on one hit and four errors.

In the opener the Escanaba Steam Laundry defeated Hughes-Tomlinson.

The presentation of the wrist watch to Kestizky was made by Ken Gundersman, on behalf of the Liberty Loans. Kestizky responded with a brief acceptance speech and was given a rousing ovation from the fans.

Nahma Keeps Pace With Cooks In Bay de Noc Pennant Chase Escanaba Cubs Win Again

Manistique, Aug. 1—The Escanaba Cubs did it again—except that this time they stretched the margin from 1-0 to 14-5.

The Cubs racked up their seventh consecutive victory without defeat in Waubung Baseball league play here yesterday by stopping Manistique, 14-5.

Pete Kutches, Charley Olson and Joe Johnston were the hitting stars of the day. Kutches got three for four, including a double. Olson got two for four, including a base-clearing triple in the eighth with the sacks loaded, and Johnston got two for three.

Demers, leftfield and pitch, got three of Manistique's eight hits in five times at bat.

The Cubs got off to a fast 8-2 lead in the fourth and were never headed. An oddity of the game was Olson's two assists, pegs for out at first base, from his spot in rightfield.

feating Foster City, 11-1, behind the five-hit pitching of Phil Brazeau.

Highlight of the game was the heavy slugging of Bark River's leadoff ace, Frank Salvage, who belted four hits in six times at bat, two of them home runs and one a triple. G. Johnson, Bark River, got the only other extra hit of the game, a double.

Walter Flath stole three bases, and Leo Knauf, Bark River manager and catcher, pilfered two. Ben Kleiman and Brazeau each swiped one.

The Barks scored two in the first, one each in the second and third and five in the fifth for a substantial lead that was never endangered. Shortstop Murray Foster City, touched Brazeau for two of the five hits.

STATE CATTLE SALE SUCCESS

Registered Holsteins Go For Total Of $10,340

Forty-nine head of registered Holstein cattle, all that were offered for sale, were sold at auction at the U. P. State Fair grounds in Escanaba Saturday afternoon, with sale proceeds totaling approximately $10,340.

The cattle were surplus from state institutions and came from herds such as the prize-winning Holstein herd at state branch prison, Marquette, at the State Hospital in Newberry, and from Lower Michigan.

Highest price for a bull was paid by Jules VanDamme of St. Nicholas, who bid $325; and the highest bid of $400 for a female was made by Earl Dexter of Mancelona. Only two of the 49 animals were purchased by Lower Peninsula farmers.

Delta county was one of the heaviest purchasers, with 19 head going to eight farmers. The successful bidders from this county were as follows:

Clifford Olson, Bark River, two heifers; Malcolm Stonecliff, Escanaba Rt. 1, seven heifers; Dewey LeBeau, Bark River Rt. 2, one heifer; George Larson, Escanaba Rt. 1, four heifers; Hugo Brannstrom, Rapid River, one heifer; Clarence Sundquist, Escanaba Rt. 1, one bull; Jules VanDamme, St. Nicholas, one bull; and Felix Johnson, representing another Delta county farmer, purchased two animals.

It was the third such sale in the Upper Peninsula, and event held annually to put surplus registered dairy animals from state institutions herds onto Michigan farms.

Bolt of Lightning Kills Two Players At Baseball Game

Baker, Fla., Aug. 1 (AP)—Two players were killed and 50 other persons were injured by a lightning bolt that ripped into a baseball game and scattered a screaming Sunday-afternoon crowd of 300.

One of those injured was listed in critical condition. The bolt plowed a ditch three inches deep and 20 feet long in the baseball diamond and sparks flashed of electricity and spread throughout the park.

The two semi-pro teams, Baker and Munson, Fla., were preparing to begin play when the lightning struck.

The dead, both members of the Baker baseball club, were Third Baseman Allen L. Joyner, Jr., 23, of Crestview and Shortstop Harry Moore of Baker.

Baker is in northwest Florida about 50 miles east of Pensacola.

Leading out-of-state educators to serve on the conference staff will include John R. Emens, president of Ball State Teachers College, Muncie, Ind.; Ralph W. Tyler, dean of social science, University of Chicago; and Kimball Young, head of the Northwestern University department of sociology.

Pardon And Paroles Chief Resigns From Political Pressure

Lansing, Aug. 1 (AP)—Ralph Hall Ferris, director of pardons and paroles in the state corrections department, announced today he had resigned under political pressure.

Ferris submitted his resignation to Corrections Commissioner Ernest C. Brooks last Thursday, but that since Brooks had made no announcement, Ferris said, he decided to announce the move.

"There is no doubt my position is wanted," Ferris said. "The commissioner is under pressure from above to get some political patronage."

Brooks was appointed by Governor Williams in January. Ferris said that after he returned July 5 from a four months illness his $9,000 salary was cut in half and some of his duties were transferred to others. He joined the department 12 years ago as director of the Bureau of Probation.

Ferris said he would accept the "modest pension" coming to him and take an extended vacation before looking for other work. He is 68, a year and a half short of the required retirement age.

Ore Boat Captain Dies In His Cabin

Cleveland, Aug. 1 (AP)—Capt. Albert Olsson was found dead in his cabin today aboard the ore carrier, John A. Kling, at the Republic Steel Corp. docks here. Olsson, about 55, was from Port Huron, Mich. His second mate, Akern Dishnow, said the ship master complained of chest pains and illness at supper Sunday night.

Gabrielson Approved For GOP Chairman

Washington, Aug. 1 (AP)—Backstage compromises appeared today to have cleared away most of the hurdles to the selection this week of Guy George Gabrielson of New Jersey as the new Republican national chairman.

With the GOP national committee meeting Thursday, Gabrielson, 58-year-old lawyer and asbestos mine owner, seemed to have the field mostly to himself in the race to succeed Rep. Hugh D. Scott, Jr.

Scott has said he will hand his resignation to the committee. Backers of A. T. "Bert" Howard, Nebraska state chairman, apparently have about given up hope to making him a formidable candidate.

Instead, they are talking about a move to put Howard in charge of a Chicago office that would have active direction of the 1950 congressional campaign in the west. This might help satisfy some who have contended the Republicans ought to go west for their chairman.

Greeks Winning War Against Red Rebels

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Aug. 1 (AP)—President Truman told Congress today that the Greek government, with American help, is making "solid progress" toward winning its civil war with the Communists. He attributed this to improved Greek leadership, accumulating U. S. military supplies, months of training of Greek soldiers, and "determination, decisiveness and aggressiveness" in the orders of the Greek high command.

Despite the reported progress militarily and in the Greek economy, the president declared that guerrilla forces are still strong. He said they are still receiving help from Albania and Bulgaria and that the Greek government remains "entirely dependent" on the United States for weapons to prosecute the war.

The chief executive in a report to Congress covering the first quarter of this year said that on March 31 the strength of the guerrilla forces was estimated at 19,830 as compared with 26,000 a year earlier.

Labor Board Words Ford Strike Issues For Walkout Vote

Lansing, Aug. 1 (AP)—The State Labor Mediation Board today determined the wording of the issues and the site of the projected strike vote of Ford Motor Company employees.

Chairman Noel P. Fox said that the board had decided to hold the election on Wayne county commission property at Fernay and Vernor, Dearborn, where a 1945 national labor relations board election was held. Approximately 98 per cent of River Rouge plant employees voted at that election, the board said.

At such plants as Highland Park, Mount Road, Ypsilanti and Iron Mountain, the voting will be conducted on company premises.

The board ruled that the approximately 80,000 eligible Michigan employees will be asked to vote yes or no on the following question:

"Do you favor a strike, under the provisions of the Michigan Labor Mediation Act, over the issues in dispute in the present contract negotiations between the Ford Motor Company and the UAW-CIO?"

CAR DESIGNER DIES

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 1 (AP)—Funeral services will be held here tomorrow for James B. Bentley, a pioneer in automotive designing. Bentley, who helped design the first Chevrolet car, died at his home here Saturday night.

Cleveland Social Security Official Visits Office Here

Every effort is being made to expedite Social Security payments and to give as prompt service as possible, Harry Gutterman, of Cleveland, assistant regional representative of the Social Security office for Michigan, Ohio and Kentucky, said during an inspection visit here.

Gutterman annually inspects the field offices. The two U. P. field offices of Social Security are located in Escanaba and Marquette. Gutterman said he was concerned with learning how the communities are being served, how payments are being made, clarifying any problems that may have arisen and examining all office procedures.

"The Escanaba office, which handles Social Security benefits and problems in Delta, Menominee, Schoolcraft, Chippewa, Luce and Mackinac counties, is operating very efficiently," he said.

Gutterman pointed out that 7,100 persons in the U. P. are receiving approximately $135,000 monthly. Of this amount $45,000 is going to 2,600 persons in the six counties served by the Escanaba office and $90,000 is going to 4,500 persons in the nine counties served by the Marquette office, headed by Wheelock P. Chamberlain. Carl Johnson is in charge of the Escanaba office.

Persons becoming eligible for Social Security payments will start receiving checks from four to six weeks after applying, it was pointed. Decentralization of the procedure in field offices such as the two U. P. offices makes this possible, he said.

Auto Wreck Traps Eight In Flames Near Statham, Ga.

Statham, Ga., Aug. 1 (AP)—An automobile crashed off a road-way near here yesterday and became a flaming death trap for its eight occupants.

A mother and her three small children were among the victims trapped in the fiery wreckage of the 1933 vehicle.

No one witnessed the mishap. Officers theorized that the driver was not familiar with the highway and crashed through an abutment. The car overturned in a ditch. Passing motorists saw the smoking ruins and notified state troopers.

The eight victims, their bodies badly charred, were identified hours later by relatives. Sheriff Delmar Smith listed them as:

Ollie Anderson, 26; Geneva Anderson, 15; Rose Wille Cawart, 11, and Nevada Kettle, 19, all of Winterville; Mrs. Pauline Brown, 27, and her children, Jerry Lee, 4, Jo Ann, 3, and Pauline, 18 months, all of Athens. Statham is in North Georgia, about 15 miles west of Athens.

Mayor Is Accused Of Accepting $1000 To Shield Gambling

Hobbs, N. M., Aug. 1 (AP)—Mayor J. Paul Heard has been charged with accepting a $1,000 bribe to protect a Negro labor club against gambling raids.

He calls the charge "more damn politics." The former state young Democrats' president posted $5,000 property bond after his arrest Saturday night. It was signed by Mrs. Agnes Castner Head, Hobbs' wife, and J. D. Heath, city councilman.

A grand jury meets Aug. 11 to start investigating Heard's administration as mayor.

Sheriff Horace Owens said L.

Aid to Education Bill Speeded Up But Chances Slim

Washington, Aug. 1 (AP)—The House Education and Labor committee will meet tomorrow in an attempt to compromise on aid-to-education bills in time for possible action at this session of Congress.

Chances of such action were admittedly poor.

A major difference on the issue stems from proposed bans in some of the legislation against use of federal money for parochial schools. Roman Catholic leaders have bitterly denounced such bans.

Although Chairman Lesinski (D-Mich.) has pronounced school aid dead for this session, there was some chance of favorable committee action in the near future. No one, however, confidently anticipated final passage.

House Leaders Ask Why China Gets No Arms

sisting Russia to have "mutually cooperative action against aggression."

In the long run, Marshall testified, the program will strengthen rather than weaken the military position of the United States and will give momentum to our foreign policy.

Problem In Far East

He was the only witness scheduled today by the house foreign affairs committee in its study of the plan to help Atlantic pact and other nations resist possible Soviet aggression. His appearance was expected in advance to touch off a lively discussion of why China was excluded from this arms aid.

Marshall represented the United States as special ambassador to China following the war and is considered by many committee members as a foremost authority on Far Eastern politics.

Questioning of other witnesses, including Secretary of State Acheson and Secretary of Defense Johnson, has failed to satisfy critics seeking the reasons for not cutting what remains of non-Communist China in for a chunk of the proposed help. About the only information given to date is that the Far Eastern situation is now being reviewed.

Spain also is not included in the list of nations for which arms are proposed, and some committee members don't like that. Without enlarging the projected cost of the program—about $1,450,000,000 in all—they want its scope expanded.

The committee may conclude its public hearings this week and start executive sessions to draft details of legislation. It wants to hear again from the U. S. chiefs of staff when they return from an inspection tour of Europe next week.

Accidental Deaths Drop in Michigan

By the Associated Press

The number of accidental deaths in Michigan showed a sharp drop this weekend, with nine reported.

Seven were the results of traffic mishaps, four in the Detroit area.

Possibly because of the cooler weather, only two drownings were reported.

Although Nevada is the sixth state in size, it is smallest in population.

S. Booker, Negro hotel and bar proprietor, told him he paid ten $100 bills to the mayor about June 20 after being told he could operate gambling at the labor club on payment of the sum.

Booker said the place was raided a few days later.

Aussies High On Two Young Netters

Wilmington, Aug. 1 (AP)—Even if they fail to take the Davis Cup back home this summer, the Aussies feel that the day isn't far off when they will reclaim the big International Tennis trophy.

In Frank Sedgman, 22, and George Worthington, 20, they firmly believe they have the two youngsters who eventually will beat the United States—maybe next year.

Sedgman is the present Australian champion, having knocked off his Davis Cup teammate, John Bromwich, in this year's final. Prior to that, Worthington had beaten Sedgman in straight sets in the Victoria championships at Melbourne.

Both are tall, blond, husky youngsters with "big" games. That is, they boast fast, kicking services behind which they can claw their way in to the net to volley and smash. Worthington, in particular, hits a terrific forehand.

What makes the Sedgman-Worthington combination look particularly promising is the fact that the two have played doubles together since their earliest junior days and are very slick at team play.

Suggs Is Winner In Muskegon Golf With Record 70

Muskegon, Mich., Aug. 1 (AP)—Tying the women's course record with a 70, Louise Suggs of Carrollton, Ga., won the third annual women's invitational golf tournament Sunday at Muskegon Country Club.

Her total score for the 36-hole meet was 145. Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex. was second with 76-76—152 and Sally Sessions of Muskegon was third with 78-78—156.

Among the amateurs, Shirley Spork of Detroit was low with 76-80—156. Pat Devany of Grosse Ile had 81-84—165 for third spot and Marjorie Row of Windsor, Ont., was second with 86-74—160.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Batting

Sid Gordon, Giants—Socked two home runs in nine-run second inning rally that gave New York 9-0 triumph over Cincinnati in second game of doubleheader.

Pitching

Larry Jansen and Adrian Zabel, Giants—pitched New York to 10-0 four-hit victory and 9-0 five-hit triumph respectively over Cincinnati.

Four Cars Derailed On Chicago Express; No Serious Injuries

Berkeley Springs, W. Va., (AP)—Four passenger cars left the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks yesterday as the Chicago Express highballed along a straight stretch in the mountains at 50 miles an hour.

Railroad officials said only one passenger, who was not identified, was injured badly enough to be taken off the train. The passenger was not believed to be seriously injured, and was treated by a physician at nearby Hancock, Md.

Other passengers received treatment on the spot for minor injuries.

The last four cars of the west-bound New-York-Chicago train were involved. The last two, both pullmans, overturned. The two preceding them, both coaches, left the rails but remained upright.

Talbert Is Spark In Eastern Tennis

South Orange, N. J., Aug. 1 (AP)—America's hopes of winning the Eastern Grass Courts singles championships opening today have revived overnight because of the surprising tennis being played by Billy Talbert of New York.

News that the three top-ranked U. S. stars, Pancho Gonzales, of Los Angeles, Ted Schroeder of La Crescenta, Calif., and Frank Parker of Los Angeles, would only compete in the doubles was nullified by Talbert's upset win over Gonzales yesterday.

Talbert staged an uphill fight to defeat the national champion and win the 59th annual Meadow club tennis championship at Southampton, N. Y., by scores of 6-4, 5-7, 3-6, 7-5, 6-2. At one time in the match Talbert trailed two sets to one and 0-4 in the fourth set.

Pole Sitters Have Chat Via Telephone

Cleveland, Aug. 1 (AP)—Two of the nation's leading pole sitters will talk over mutual problems today.

A long distance telephone call between Charles Lupica of Cleveland and Mrs. Jean Ellis of Boston has been arranged by a Boston radio station.

Mrs. Ellis is spending her days on a pole because she cannot find a place to live for "reasonable" rent. Lupica has promised to stay on his platform 40 feet above street level until the Cleveland Indians are in first place. They currently are four games behind the New York Yankees.

The Indians lost to the Boston Red Sox yesterday, but Lupica received more bad news. His doctor ordered him to cut down on cigars.

Lupica, now in the air 68 days, said his cigar consumption doubles during baseball broadcasts.

Snead, Middlecoff 1-2 in Western Open

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 1 (AP)—Sam Snead, the White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., professional who says he's "tired of golf" had something today to relieve that tired feeling.

It was the $2,600 he won yesterday by taking first place in the 46th annual Western Open with a 72-hole total of 268. That score bettered the Western Open record of 270, set in 1947 by Johnny Palmer, Badin, N. C., and equaled the record for the 6,557-yard Kellier course, set in 1946 by Henry Ransom.

To get his 268, Snead had to shoot one of three rounds of 65 scored in the four days of play in the Western classic. He fired that one Saturday to add to his earlier rounds of 69 and 67.

Cary Middlecoff of Memphis shot a 65 yesterday to boost himself to a four-round total of 272 and take down $1,900 second money.

SPORTS MIRROR

Today a year ago—The Cleveland Indians whipped the Boston Red Sox twice, 12-2 and 6-1, before 70,702 at Cleveland.

Three years ago—Three home runs, two by Tommy Henrich, enabled New York to defeat Detroit 4-2, and regain second place in the American league.

Five years ago—Pvt. Fritz Zivic of Pittsburgh knocked out Peto De Ruzza in the eighth round at New York.

Ten years ago—Detroit beat New York, 5-2, and defeated Red Ruffing for the first time in two years.

Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees is the only active American leaguer who enters the 1949 season with more than 300 home runs.

Indianapolis, Aug. 1 (AP)—The National Basketball League and Basketball Association of America today were reported near agreement on a merger that would end costly bidding for college stars.

The big cities of the BAA and the smaller communities of the NBA will meet in New York Wednesday to try to agree on details.

Ike Duffey, NBL president and wealthy Anderson, Ind., meat packer, said the off-proposed merger was nearer reality than ever before after an NBL meeting here Saturday.

He said it had to come "sooner or later, or both leagues will be ruined."

"Kented the first day" said Smith.

Helicopters, 'Chutists Fighting Forest Fires

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
Washington, (NEA)—The U. S. forest fire threat through the air. There are two aerial weapons against fires that threaten to destroy our forests—"smoke jump-

CONCILIATOR—Paul A. Porter, above, was nominated by President Truman to be U. S. representative on the Palestine Conciliation Commission. He succeeds Mark F. ### River Forms Delta At The Wrong End

Kent, Ohio.—The fabulous horse with its head where its tail ought to be has a counterpart in a short river in the State of Maine, which has a delta at its head instead of at its mouth. This curious phenomenon is described in the journal, Science, by Dr. C. N. Savage of Kent State University here.

The stream, known as Dead River, normally drains water from Androscoggin Lake into the Androscoggin River. Its course, mainly northwesterly, is six or seven miles long. It is very sluggish, since the usual difference in level between lake and river is only four or five feet.

However, during the time of spring freshets, the high-water level in the Androscoggin River becomes higher than the lake, and the current in the Dead River is reversed, so that it "flows backward" into the lake. At such times, the river water is heavy with rock silt, and this burden, dropped when the current of the Dead River enters the still water of the lake, is forming the delta.

The delta is now about one and one-half miles long and a quarter of a mile wide.

Chiggers or red bugs usually live low to the ground near rotten logs or tree stumps or blackberry brambles.

ers" and helicopters.

The U. S. Forest Service has been developing the technique of dropping men in parachutes to fight fires for 10 years. Its corps of 300 expertly trained men is always ready to be flown to practically any part of the country. They constitute one of the most efficient outfits of their kind in the world.

These smoke jumpers spearhead all of the paid and volunteer efforts which are marshalled when a big blaze is first discovered. Because they can reach the scene so swiftly, many times just a few of them can get a fire under control which otherwise would destroy millions of acres of valuable timber.

Although the work is extremely hazardous, the equipment which is now provided for them has kept injuries resulting from the drop itself almost negligible in the past two years. The actual fire fighting and the possibility of being surrounded by a wall of blazing trees are the dangerous elements of the game. Each man is heavily padded, wears steel leg guards, has his face protected with a heavy iron screen and his head covered with a tough helmet.

He carries with him specially-designed picks, shovels and axes

plus a quantity of explosives, first aid equipment and food.

The helicopter has come into use more recently, but it has many advantages in fighting forest fires. First, it serves as a sort of aerial command post for the person directing the activities. Hovering over the fire, he can see which way it is headed, where it is most dangerous and where a concentration of effort would be most effective.

It can also be used to get men and equipment from one spot to another quickly. Once a smoke-jumper has bailed out, he is committed to that particular spot, regardless of whether the fire should become more serious in another spot. The helicopter can also evacuate men when a fire threatens to surround them, keep the fighters fed and supplied with equipment when they are in action, and get them back to hospitals quickly when they are injured.

Although the Forest Service has had more than 700 hours of fire fighting experience with helicopters, it owns none. It has to charter them from private companies when they are needed. Usually, during a dry season, when there is an alert, the location of all helicopters in the area will be determined before-hand and they will be kept on a stand-by basis.

The bright spot in the forest fire picture for this summer is the giant snowfall which paralyzed the West and Midwest last winter. Fortunately—for the flood threat as well as the fire hazard—the snow melted slowly. Instead of running rapidly off the ground into the rivers as it melted, it seeped gradually into the ground.

This factor has kept the forest fire danger in the U. S.—except in the East—from developing faster than normally. But any kind of a drought in the Western or Midwestern states, comparable to the one which hit the Atlantic coast, could quickly wipe out this temporary advantage, Forest Service officials warn.

"GET ME A LAWYER"—That's the order this youthful traffic offender is barking to Wickliffe, O., police. The shepherd pup was brought into the jail by a harried motorist. "He's sitting in the middle of the street and blocking traffic," the motorist complained. When he refused to give his name or dog license to the booking officer, the pup was tossed in the clink.

BOOKLET GIVES SHOPPING DATA

Smart Buyers Prepare For Shop Tour

By JANE EADS

Washington—The smart shoppers don't merely save a few pennies here or there, or get an extra ounce of this or that for their money—"the important thing is they can reach up to better living all the way through." This is the theory put forth in "Effective Shopping," a new booklet prepared for use in the nation's high schools as a practical guide to everyday habits of shopping.

Skills and habits that produce the best shopping results are discussed from all angles in the booklet, published by the Consumer Education Study of the National Association of Secondary-School Principals. Contending that most folks in the past have had to improve their shopping efficiency through the "school of hard knocks," the booklet attempts to reduce those knocks by analyzing some 15 "operations" involved in shopping.

These units, says Thomas H. Briggs, director of the Consumer Education Study, are "intended to help young people become more intelligent, more effective, and more conscientious consumers in the economic system in which they live." They deal with such topics as pre-shopping planning, inspecting goods and labels, making use of advertising and using price as a measure of value. Suggestions concerning choosing the time and place for buying, securing adjustments when necessary, and paying the bill, are also presented in the booklet.

"Undoubtedly," Dr. Briggs says, "more bad buying results from insufficient forethought and from muddy thinking than from any other cause. And great amounts of shopping time and energy are wasted for the same reason. Nothing is quite so essential to good shopping as knowing precisely what you want."

By and large, shoppers with a strong urge to get a lot for their money do most of their business with "cash on the barrel head," states point 14 on "Paying the Bill." However, it points out that this does not prove that shoppers necessarily should buy for cash.

"Good credit is a valuable asset. In a pinch it can be an economic lifesaver. And, even in the ordinary run of affairs, it is more important than most young people realize. In business circles your credit rating goes beyond merely purely economic considerations and virtually becomes a rating of you as a person."

Neither veterans nor right-thinking non-veterans should be fooled by the phoney "Citizens First and Veterans Second" slogan. The man who has served his country honorably in time of war does not need to furnish additional proof of his good citizenship.—Loyall T. Beggs, national commander-in-chief, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

I hope we have got through the so-called "cold war" and that we are entering a period that can be characterized as the period of the "cold peace."—UN Secretary General Trygve Lie.

Dutch Elm Disease Hits Famous Tree

By ALFRED STEFFERUD
U. S. Department of Agriculture
(Written exclusively for Science Service)

The king of elms is nearly dead, but none of its mourners dares yet to shout, "Long live the king!" The Great Elm in Wethersfield, Conn., is a victim of the Dutch elm disease, which in two decades has killed uncounted numbers of our finest trees, and over which our scientists have not yet won full victory.

Age Mystery
The Great Elm is older than the records. Some people say it was standing when Wethersfield was settled more than 300 years ago. Some say it grew from a switch that a Smith boy stuck in the ground after he had used it to bring home the family cows one evening 175 years ago.

One account is that Lieut. John Smith, great-great-uncle of Charles N. Smith, before whose residence the tree flourished, planted it as a straight clean sapling he brought back from a trip in 1745.

Charles Wesley is said to have preached under it in 1750. Near it, Washington and Rochambeau conferred in Revolutionary times. Nearby, also, embattled citizens once defied the Royal British Stamp Master, Jared Ingersoll, in 1765 and forced him to resign.

Giant Dimensions
Measurements taken at various times show that its trunk continued to expand even after it reached its prime a hundred years ago. In 1929 its diameter and girth at ground level were 35½ and 49 feet, respectively. It stood 94 feet high; its spread was 165 feet, and the area of spread, 21,382 feet. Photographs and other records indicate that it was 125 feet tall before 1908.

Its shape also was unique, an exaggeration of the common spreading type with a domed top. Originally, no fewer than 12 giant limbs sprang from one point scarcely 15 feet from the ground; the limbs extended upward and outward for 100 feet or more with few side branches, except at the ends.

Legend Of Shape
John Willard, former tree warden in Wethersfield and source of these figures, recalls local legends that this shape was caused by severe damage to the young tree by and ice storm or that the top was eaten off by horses and cattle. Some seedlings of the Great Elm, Mr. Willard says, show the same low-heading and profuse-branching habit. The more common type is the vase form.

Hurricanes in 1938 and 1944 weakened the giant. Shortly afterward it had its first attack of Dutch elm disease and the first of its many operations. In vain efforts to stop the spread of the disease, William George, Wethersfield's tree surgeon, has lopped one branch after another. This summer he will cut off the last remaining upright branch; only its stump will remain.

High Casualties
Before the 1938 hurricane, Mr. George took care of 3,500 trees in an area noted for its beautiful trees. In the meadows of the Connecticut Valley the American elm reaches a high point of size and beauty. Now Mr. George has only 1,900 trees to look after, and he is losing an average of 100 elms a year to the disease.

Vigorous efforts have been taken to suppress the disease, to whose causal fungus, Ceratostoma ulmi, our native elms are highly susceptible. The disease has become established as far west as Indiana and Kentucky and southward to Virginia. It has been found in Tennessee and Colorado. It was brought to this country in elm burl logs imported for the veneer industry before 1930. It was discovered in the Netherlands 30 years ago and has spread rapidly in Europe.

Its story is told in "Trees," the new 1949 Yearbook of Agriculture, by three scientists in the U. S. Department of Agriculture, R. U. Swingle, R. R. Whitten, and E. G. Brewer.

Along with fires, poor cutting practices, insects, diseases, and waste, Dutch elm disease is one enemy of our trees and forests. Among the accomplishments, values, pleasures, and other elements that compose the brighter side of this great natural resource, as told in the coming Yearbook, is the account of the attempts to breed and select superior types of elms that are resistant to the fungus.

Beetle Carriers
Because the Dutch elm disease organism is normally borne from ailing trees to healthy trees by two kinds of bark beetles, a factor of control is to stop the insects by keeping them from breeding in recently cut, dead, or dying elms, and from feeding on living elms. That can be done by burning or spraying infested wood with a one per cent DDT spray in No. 2 fuel oil.

The beetles are widespread in the eastern half of the United States, even in places where the disease has not yet been found.

After inoculating thousands of American elm seedlings to locate disease-resistant types, Drs. Swingle, Whitten, and Brewer report that American scientists have found two resistant American elms.

"Other recent selections and hybrids," they say, "seem promising, and elms that combine resistance to the disease and high quality should be available soon through commercial nurseries."

When that time comes, those who mourn the kingly Wethersfield elm can say "Long live the king!" with assurance.

Wolves apparently mate for life, and the father aids in rearing the family.

Wolves once ranged over most of the North American continent.

JUST HORSIN' AROUND—Mrs. Angie Potvin hitches her horse to a parking meter in Lawrence, Mass., before doing her shopping. She's well within the law too. When a somewhat confused cop issued a ticket, Mrs. Potvin complained to the traffic division. The police chief cited a traffic ordinance describing a horse as "a means of transportation." So Mrs. Potvin—and the horse—are in the clear. The cop's still confused.

Heat Waves May Bring Dangers After Operation

Chicago.—Patients who have had a nerve-cutting operation for relief of high blood pressure should be especially careful to keep cool with fans, cooling baths and any other possible means during heat waves.

This warning, which applies particularly to patients who have recently had the operation, is apparent from a report to the forthcoming issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association here.

The report is by Drs. Jameson L. Chassin and J. William Henton of New York University-Bellevue Medical Center. It concerns two patients who had had the operation and developed high fever, like that of heat stroke, during last August's heat wave in New York City.

Both patients had had extensive nerve-cutting operations which abolished the sweating mechanism. In both cases the operation had been performed only a short time before the heat wave struck. One was still in the hospital recovering from the operation. Cold packs, a cold oxygen tent, electric fans and similar cooling measures helped these two patients recover.

More than 30 million persons receive their mail from R. F. D. carriers.

SEATTLE SPAN ALL PAID FOR

Unique Bridge Once Was Storm Center

By FRED ZAVATERO
Seattle, (NEA)—After 20 years of arguing, a year and a half of building, and nine years of toll collecting, the only floating bridge in the United States was paid for this summer—19 years ahead of schedule.

Seattle has one of the world's four civilian pontoon bridges because an irate young man missed a ferry in 1919. As he watched the ferry paddle across Lake Washington toward Mercer island, little more than a mile away, Homer M. Hadley, a young structural engineer, decided he had missed the boat for the last time. He would build a bridge.

He found he had chosen the world's worst bridge site. A lake depth of 150 to 200 feet overlaid with 100 feet of mud made the cost of a fixed bridge enormous. But Hadley continued to study the lake and, a few months later, he had the bridge built—on paper.

The initial reaction to his floating-bridge plan was definitely not favorable. People said it would hamper ship traffic and mar the city's beauty.

Hadley continued to show his plans to various civic organizations. Impressed by the logic and economy of his suggestions, they launched a "Build - a - Bridge" campaign that eventually had the entire state in an uproar.

To settle the dispute, a State Toll Bridge Authority was created to study all methods of bridging the lake. After months of research, the board presented a solution incorporating virtually all of Hadley's ideas, and, in 1939, construction of the unique structure began.

As work on the 7800-foot floating section progressed, opponents to the bridge at first were not convinced that the 4458-ton concrete pontoon wouldn't sink. But the unbroken four-lane express highway across the lake, held in place by 50 65-ton anchors, has safely ridden out the most severe storms.

Although the water level of Lake Washington is controlled by government locks, possible water level fluctuations were not ignored. Resting on a system of hydraulic rockers, the bridge can tolerate a variation of three feet without harm.

Lake shipping has never been hindered by the bridge. It literally comes apart to form a "passage-way" for large, ocean-going vessels. By drawing the channel pontoon into a specially-designed "bay" in a divided pontoon, a 200-foot opening is made in the bridge.

On June 30, 1940, 18 months after work began on the $8,450,000 project, the first automobile "floated" across Lake Washington. The bridge eliminates more than 14 miles of travel through congested residential areas to reach the expanding east shore. It provides a direct route from Seattle to the transcontinental highway through the Cascade Mountains.

Diet Alone Used To Curb Diabetes

Atlantic City.—Success in preventing diabetes by treatment with diet alone was announced here recently by Dr. Bernard A. Watson of the Clifton Springs Sanitarium and Clinic to the American Diabetes Association. He said that in 80 per cent of the cases patients can be returned to a normal state of sugar utilization by sticking to a prescribed diet.

The treated patients came from a group of approximately 603 who had sugar in their urine. Fifteen per cent of these showed an abnormal amount of sugar excretion when given the standard sugar tolerance test for diabetes. After a follow-up period of two to five years those whose condition became worse were put on the diet.

The diet made it possible to reverse this process back to normal even in the early clinical stages of the disease, Dr. Watson stated. However, even though the disease can be prevented when caught early, it cannot be cured, he pointed out. If the patient eats immoderately the condition will return.

The eastern timber wolf once ranged east through the Atlantic states as far south as Georgia.

Timing May Decide It's Boy or Girl

Atlantic City. — Parents who want the next baby to be a boy might try timing the conception date as late as possible in the wife's most fertile period of the month. Scientists cannot guarantee that this will succeed, but a report to the American Medical Association here seems now to point that way.

In experimental breeding of rats, the later in the fertile period the animals were mated, the greater was the number of male offspring, Drs. Deryl Hart and James D. Moody of Duke University reported. The percentage of male to female offspring was increased from a normal of 100 to percentages varying from 149 to 225. Because rats would not mate early when the female was in heat, it was not possible to vary the percentage to a female preponderance.

Hamsters, the Duke doctors found, were more obliging. But their time-sex ratio was just the reverse of that in rats. There were more male offspring when the animals were mated early and more females when they were mated late.

SOUNDS IN THE NIGHT—Model Serena Sande is supposed to be registering fright as she is awakened by sounds of a burglar in the house. But it's the burglar who's going to be frightened if claims of a Newark, N. J., manufacturer are proved. The little gadget Serena holds is a burglar alarm. She flips a switch and a siren howls like a banshee on a bender. Alarm is small enough to be carried in pocket or purse.

MAKING TESTS FOR CLEANERS

Silver Spring Institute
Studies Industry

By JANE EADS

Washington—Trouble-shooter and brain trust for America's multi-billion-dollar cleaning and dyeing industry is the National Institute of Cleaning and Dyeing in nearby Silver Spring, Md.

One of the nation's original trade associations, the institute was set up in 1907. It now boasts a membership of some 7,500 plant owners in the United States and 27 foreign countries.

In its eight modern laboratories the institute helps members solve troublesome cleaning problems, investigates everything from shrinkage control to moth-proofing compounds, researches the effects of cleaning and dyeing on synthetic fabrics.

It also conducts a vocational training school where some 600 students a year are provided with the basic requirements for conducting dry cleaning businesses and carries on a consumer education service to keep the public informed of hazards involved in the cleaning and dyeing of certain articles.

The institute's work is usually taken as gospel by small claims courts and Better Business Bureaus to help its members on damage claims and kindred headaches.

If the cleaner has been at fault, the institute will be the first to say so. In tracking down faulty cleaning practices it helps to raise the standard of the industry as a whole.

Last year the institute set up its research and analysis departments in a new $800,000 building. It works closely with the textile industry and investigates new fibers, fabrics, finishes, dyes and garments for their ability to withstand dry cleaning. In many cases these investigations have resulted in the development of new techniques for dry cleaning and finishing unusual items sent in for dry cleaning. Many firms are submitting their textiles and finishes for dry cleanability tests prior to placing them on the market.

In its first-rate cleaning plant, open for business to the public, the institute spruces up everything from FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover's pants to Margaret Truman's party frocks. In addition, nearly all the embassies, including the Egyptian, Mexican and Nicaraguan, and the Supreme Court send their drapes in to be cleaned.

Other items sent to the institute include flags from the Army War College's historic collection, inaugural gowns of former first ladies in the Smithsonian Institution collection, decoration ribbons worn by diplomats and uniforms worn by the top brass of the nation's armed services.

Canadian Sault Denies Gouging In Tourist Trade

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., (P)—The fish aren't biting so well in the Canadian country surrounding this resort town, but outside of that the local tourist business thinks customers should have no cause to complain.

The Canadian Soo Chamber of Commerce voiced that opinion after the Chicago Automobile club sent a letter protesting "exorbitant" prices in shops and resorts.

The message also mentioned noisy city streets, indiscriminate tagging of visiting cars by police—and the bad fishing.

GAS SHORTAGE UNNECESSARY

Other Sources Of Oil Are Offered

San Francisco (SS)—A shortage of gasoline and fuel oil is unnecessary in case of another world war, it was indicated here at the meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. The process for converting coal to oil and obtaining gasoline and fuel oil from oil shale are now far enough advanced to make it possible to meet American needs, particularly in view of the increased production of natural crude oil.

Even in recent years by industry and the U. S. Government has made the production of synthetic liquid fuel possible at low cost. The engineers were told by Dr. W. C. Schroeder, of the U. S. Bureau of Mines. Refined products, such as gasoline, diesel and fuel oils, can be made from coal and oil shale for as little as 8.4 to 12 cents a gallon, he said.

Excellent plant investment, he estimated that gasoline can be produced from coal at costs ranging from nine to 12 cents per gallon. The cost of crude shale oil, again excluding interest on it, is about 10 cents per barrel, and the liquid fuels refined from this crude would cost about 8.4 cents per gallon.

Development of mining and processing oil shale have been largely responsible for the low production cost of oil shale. He stated, Mechanized mining has made high output possible. Progress in refining also has been substantial from 75 per cent to 85 percent of the crude shale oil now can be economically converted into gasoline, heating oil and diesel fuel.

Shortages of gasoline and fuel oil, common during World War II and the immediate post-war period, are no longer a problem, he declared. In spite of high-level consumption, the petroleum industry has raised production fast enough to overtake demand and even provide some excess of oil products.

In less than a decade, however, shortages of domestic petroleum can appear that would grow rapidly. There are no known sources to meet such shortages. They are the importation of oil, secondary recovery for present oil fields, development of tidelands oil and development of synthetic liquid fuels. Probably the most important of these is the development of synthetic liquid fuels. This would be a completely independent of foreign sources and adequate for centuries, he added, as well as provide a new American industry.

The coyote may have three to 10 pups in a litter.

Washington Pigeons Emulate Sea Gulls

Washington — Washington's park pigeons seem to be preparing for naval careers. At any rate, one flock of 16 birds has been observed by Dr. Clarence Cottam of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, actually swimming in a water-filled pond near the Department of the Interior building.

Among the plants in this pond were specimens of the giant-leaved Brazilian species, Victoria regia. Pigeons kept alighting on these leaves in twos and threes, intent on bathing and preening.

When three or more alighted on a leaf at the same time, the leaf would sink, letting the pigeons down into the water, which was from 12 to 18 inches deep. The pigeons didn't seem to mind it at all; after they had got their feathers as wet as they liked they took off "with an upward lunge similar in grace and performance to that of a surface-feeding duck."

Some of the birds even alighted upon open water, swam around for a few minutes, and then took off. One bird was observed to do this twice in a 15-minute period.

"Sold the first day," said Jones.

New Home Building Methods Studied

College Station, Texas — The present high cost of building has aroused scientists to find new methods of construction with earth as a building material, and technical men here at the Texas Engineering Station have issued a report of recent investigations relative to rammed-earth construction. It contains valuable suggestions about the types of soil satisfactory for this purpose, as well as techniques for their use.

There is nothing new in the idea of using earth as a construction material. Brick is baked earth. The adobe houses long used in the world are sun-baked brick. The so-called mud-stick homes of early American Indians were made of adobe material plastered on the inner and outer sides of a stick framework to form a house. The outer houses of pioneer days on the prairie are examples of earth dwellings. The rammed-earth construction is merely another type of structure using earth for its sidewalls. In it, earth is tamped within temporary forms similar to those used in concrete construction.

Opposites Attract Saying Holds Good In Marriage Survey

Stanford, Calif.—In picking a wife or a husband, the old saying that "Opposites attract," holds good. This is confirmed in a study of 271 couples by Dr. Horace Gray, of the Stanford University School of Medicine.

Each husband and wife was classified according to Jung's psychological types. A person's interests may be turned inward toward the world of his own thoughts and feelings, or he may be interested primarily in other people and in things. His way of perceiving things may be by his faculties of sensation or by intuition. His judgments may be based on thinking or on feeling.

In only 40 couples, 15 per cent of the group studied, were husband and wife alike in all three respects. In another 15 per cent they were straight opposites—different in all three respects.

Most common picture was that of the extravert-sensation-thinking husband married to an extravert-sensation-feeling wife. Couples that are alike in two respects and complementary in one make up 38 per cent of the group.

The attraction is greatest in the field of attitude, i. e., between introverts and extraverts; 61 per cent were opposite in this regard. Next the mutual allure between marriage partners was greatest in the aspect of judgement; 59 per cent were opposite in that one was of the thinking type and the other feeling. The pull of opposites in the field of perception, that is, between sensation and intuition types was lowest, affecting only 52 per cent.

He stands at the prow of a replica of the original craft that will bring him and his companions from Copenhagen to invade English shores. The modern Vikings will land on the beaches of Kent, then sail their craft up the Thames to London.

Harvard Astronomer Has New Theory On 'Birth' Of Comets

By SCIENCE SERVICE
Ottawa, Canada.—A comet is formed from a heart of "ices" of common gases, starting in the outer reaches of the solar system, an astronomer proposed recently.

Dr. Fred L. Whipple of Harvard college observatory suggested that this solid nucleus, or heart, is turned into the huge cloud of gas, which makes up the head of the comet, by heat as it approaches the sun. Dr. Whipple's answer to a baffling riddle of the solar system—What is a comet?—was given to the American Astronomical Society meeting here.

The "icy" solid heart from which the comet head is formed would not be large. Its diameter would be four miles, at most, and more likely about a half mile. In addition to water in its solid form, ice, Dr. Whipple believes that the solid forms of the gasses ammonia, methane, carbon monoxide or carbon dioxide and carbon nitride are in the comet nucleus.

In addition to the "ices," the heart probably contains some bits of solid matter similar to meteors, or shooting stars. And there is a layer or shell of this matter outside the nucleus, through which the evaporation of the "ices" takes place.

The famed tail of the comet is known to be caused by the pressure of the sun's radiation which sweeps back gases and dust of the comet's head.

As the comet moves through the solar system, it gives off some of the gases, and this accounts for changes in its path, or orbit. Also lost are some of the bits of meteoric matter which cause the showers of shooting stars when these solid pieces of a comet strike the earth's atmosphere.

Under Dr. Whipple's theory, the ovalness, or eccentricity, of a comet's orbit would increase or decrease, depending on whether the comet's rotation was in the same or opposite direction as its path around the sun.

Thus, a well-known comet, Encke, has been observed to be decreasing its eccentricity, so it is believed to be rotating in an opposite direction from its path.

Dr. Whipple's theory of what makes up a comet, agrees with another new theory of how a comet starts. An English astronomer, R. A. Lyttleton of Cambridge University, recently proposed that the comet nucleus is formed by dust and gas pulled together by the sun's gravity.

Chiggers usually are not found in hardwood groves, and thus oaks or elms are better spots for picnic grounds to avoid these insects.

COAXIAL CABLE 20 YEARS OLD

Anniversary Observed In New York

New York, (SS)—The coaxial cable system, used in sending hundreds of telephone conversations over the line at the same time, is now 20 years old, and its invention received proper notice here Monday at the Bell Telephone Laboratories at which the two inventors were present.

The first installation of coaxial cable was at Phoenixville, Pa., late in 1929. There are many thousands of miles of it now in use, and by the end of 1950 approximately 12,000 miles are expected to be installed. This will provide heavy-capacity communication facilities between virtually all the large cities of the East, Midwest and Pacific Coast.

Credit for the invention of the coaxial cable is given by the Bell organization to two of its engineers, Lloyd Espenschied and Herman A. Affel, both of the Bell Laboratories. There has been much improvement since the first type was developed. Today's cable can carry 600 simultaneous telephone conversations, or two television programs, on each pair of the eight tubes included in it. This capacity will some day be doubled, it is expected from recent experimental work.

The name coaxial comes from the fact that a copper pipe used as a tube, and a copper wire centered within it, have the same axis. The wire is held in exact position by insulating disks about an inch apart. The tubes are used in pairs, each transmitting in one direction. The tubes confine the electric waves that travel through them with almost the speed of light, and carry them to their destination without the spreading in all directions that takes place in radio broadcasting.

A coaxial tube can carry an extremely wide band of wave frequencies simultaneously, wider in fact than the entire spread of frequencies used by all radio stations in ordinary broadcasting. In order to obtain many different voice pathways for separate conversations within a tube, the frequency band is divided up into separate channels. Crystal filters select the individual voice channels at the cable ends in a manner similar to that by which a radio is tuned in a single station.

The coaxial cable, in its lead sheath, is usually placed underground where it is generally safe from breakage from storms and other causes. It is filled with inert nitrogen as another safety measure. Where lightning storms are frequent, the lead cable is protected by a copper coating.

Red Germans Use Amateur Reporters

Berlin, (AP)—The "people's democracy" in the Soviet Zone of Germany is creating a new type of journalist—the "people's correspondent." He is usually a worker who reports from his work or his factory to communist-controlled dailies.

Their stories are featured in large communist papers in East Berlin. Several columns are reserved for them.

Not all Russian-licensed newspapers like the new type of journalists. Said "Neue Zeit," a Christian-Democratic Organ: "The people's correspondents will hardly be in a position to satisfy the qualitative demands of the press."

But "Neue Zeit" was slapped back by "Neues Deutschland," the official Socialist Unity (Communist) Party daily which criticized

"the professional correspondents of those newspapers which do not know this direct contact with the essence of our social being."

In 1934, average meat consumption by Americans dropped to 117 pounds, compared with 145 pounds in 1948 and 151 in 1900.

Away From It All

"THIS IS THE LIFE!" It's her first morning, but Louise wants to rest. Let breakfast wait, she says.

"HOW ABOUT A DRINK?" After a morning canter, Louise leads her horse to a bathtub trough.

RESTFUL. Louise likes to sit on the bottom of the canoe and let her boy friend do the paddling.

SUN BATH. It looks good to the others when she stretches out for a sun tanning on the diving board.

Vacation time is the big dream for fifty weeks of the year. For the city dweller it looms biggest of all when June rolls around. Then the man behind the desk or the girl behind the typewriter and the counter becomes fairly obsessed with the dream-and the job, the apartment, the city are like dead weights on the spirit. Away from it all!-and the train, plane or auto can't take them away fast enough to a new land of pleasure and living. For the elders it will mean rest and relaxation, for youth it will be a fling at sports, social activities, and even a bit of romance if it can be found. Here, stenographer Louise McMullen finds her vacation joy at Tamarack Lodge, a resort in the Catskills, 90 miles from Manhattan.

GOOD FORM. Tennis is one of Louise's favorite sports. She doesn't find much time or place for it in the city.

WEARING her finest, Louise enjoys dancing in pavilion.

ROMANCE. It's summertime-and a new beau has been found.

LOUISE returns to her typewriter. Vacation's now but a memory!

London-New York Flight Produces Luxury In Air

By S. BURTON HEATH
NEA Staff Correspondent

New York, (NEA)—At long last commercial aviation has produced a commodity it has been talking about for years—luxury in the air.

Pan American's new "President" week-end service between New York and London, in a specially-equipped two-deck Boeing Stratocruiser, is the first air service that competes with the luxury of a crack railroad train or, considering the time and space elements, with that of a moderately good ocean liner.

From the beginning, the airlines have tried to sell the idea of luxury. But the thousands of confirmed air travelers who use planes do so for one or both of two reasons—speed in getting somewhere, or the economy that such speed makes possible. Luxury never has entered in.

The "President" service offers that speed and economy, since the fare bonus across the Atlantic is only $10 on top of regular charges. The Stratocruiser, with light load, has flown non-stop from New York to London in nine hours 46 minutes.

With a full load, on the passenger preview flight, it flew non-stop to Shannon in 10 hours nine minutes, stopped to permit breakfast, and then made London in an hour and 53 minutes more. Taking off from Idlewild at six in the evening, passengers were in their London hotels in time for lunch.

Coming back, with time changes in its favor, the Stratocruiser left London in late evening and landed passengers at New York about 8:30, after a single stop at Gander, N. F., in time for almost a full day's work.

This was faster time than any other commercial plane can make under similar conditions, but comfort featured the trip much more than did the added speed.

The Stratocruiser is big enough to be steady and quiet. Its cabin is pressurized for 3000 feet. It is big enough so that one can relieve boredom by walking around, or even climbing up and down the stairway between the two decks.

The "President's" seats are spaced from 53 to 57 inches apart, instead of the 40 inches normal on a long-range plane. Those additional 13 to 17 inches permit the seats to recline further, for rest, and there are leg-rests that make the seats at night into "sleepers," with a curtain cutting off the aisle.

For an extra $25 each there are 13 genuine berths in the main cabin, all uppers. Forward of the main cabin are two "honeymoon suites," like railroad pullman sections, in which the day seats make up into a lower berth, and there is also an upper berth to let down at night.

For a maximum of 53 passengers there are five attendants. You can order a cocktail, highball, or non-alcoholic refreshments at will. You can have breakfast in bed. A seven-course dinner, with choice for each course, is served one item at a time instead of all together on a tray. It starts with cocktails, includes vintage champagne and winds up with liqueurs.

This is a far cry from the close quarters and limited service available even on the best planes prior to the Stratocruiser. It is a far cry, too, from what Pan American wanted—and still would like—to offer as an alternative for those who must travel cheaply or stay at home.

The standard New York to London fare now is $350 one way, $630 round trip. Pan American wanted permission to cut this on new Boeings, for "coach type" service, to $225 one way, or $405 round trip. The Civil Aeronautics Board, however, prefers to raise the "in season" fare to $375, less 10 per cent on round trips; and cut the "off-season" fare only to $335 one way, $502.50 round trip.

That would be almost as high a charge for "in-season" travel sitting up in a 75-passenger Boeing, with ordinary service, as Pan American makes in the President for luxury service—including a sleep-in-your-pajamas berth.

Pan American has the idea there are two types of air passengers—the few who want luxury and can pay for it at "President" rates, and the many who can travel only if cost is cut to rock bottom. Up to now, air service has not catered to either. It has been too costly for the masses, too un-luxurious for the classes.

The "President" service is designed to please those with money to finance maximum comfort. Coach-type transoceanic travel, at relatively small cost, must wait until other airlines, the CAB, and other nations are willing to give their permission for the experiment. Both the State Department and the European Cooperation Administration would like to see it tried.

With the cold war dragging in to its fourth year, we still lack any effective plan for the swiftest possible mobilization of our resources to insure reaching our allies in time.—Bernard M. Baruch.

Gas Turbine Engine Not Ready for Auto

French Lick, Ind.—Gas turbine engines for automobiles are not ready yet, the Society of Automobile Engineers was told here by William A. Turunen of General Motors Research Laboratories. Although coming into wide use in speedy airplanes, the present types have a high fuel-consumption rate, and also need better controls and limiting devices to insure safe operation.

This type of engine utilizes high pressure jets of gas delivered against vanes on a shaft to cause speedy revolution of the shaft. It is somewhat similar to the well-known steam turbine, but uses gases of combustion rather than steam. Gas turbine engines are now widely used in stationary installations, and a gas turbine-electric locomotive is now making test runs in the United States. The type used in airplanes is often called the turbo-prop to distinguish it from the turbo-jet used in direct jet propulsion. In the tur-

Millionth of Inch Measure Is Needed

New York.—If you want to do something big in a small way, here's your chance: develop a device for measuring down to a millionth of an inch or less.

Despite all the instruments scientists have for making ultra-fine measurements, they still need more, declares Dr. Haakon Styri, director of research for SKF Industries, Inc. "New and better types of gauging equipment to make fast and accurate checks of the finer tolerances toward which industry is constantly advancing are in great demand now than ever before," he explains.

A few decades ago, accurate measurements down to a ten-thousandth of an inch were considered the ultimate. But today, these measurements are made down to a few millionths, and industry would like to make them even smaller, Dr. Styri says.

GETTING JOB IS IMPORTANT

Get Your Foot In Door, Babson Advises

By ROGER W. BABSON

Gloucester, Mass.—I am happy to be back again on Cape Ann. I am sure there is no better place for summer anywhere in the whole U. S. A.—and this makes a pretty good home for the entire year.

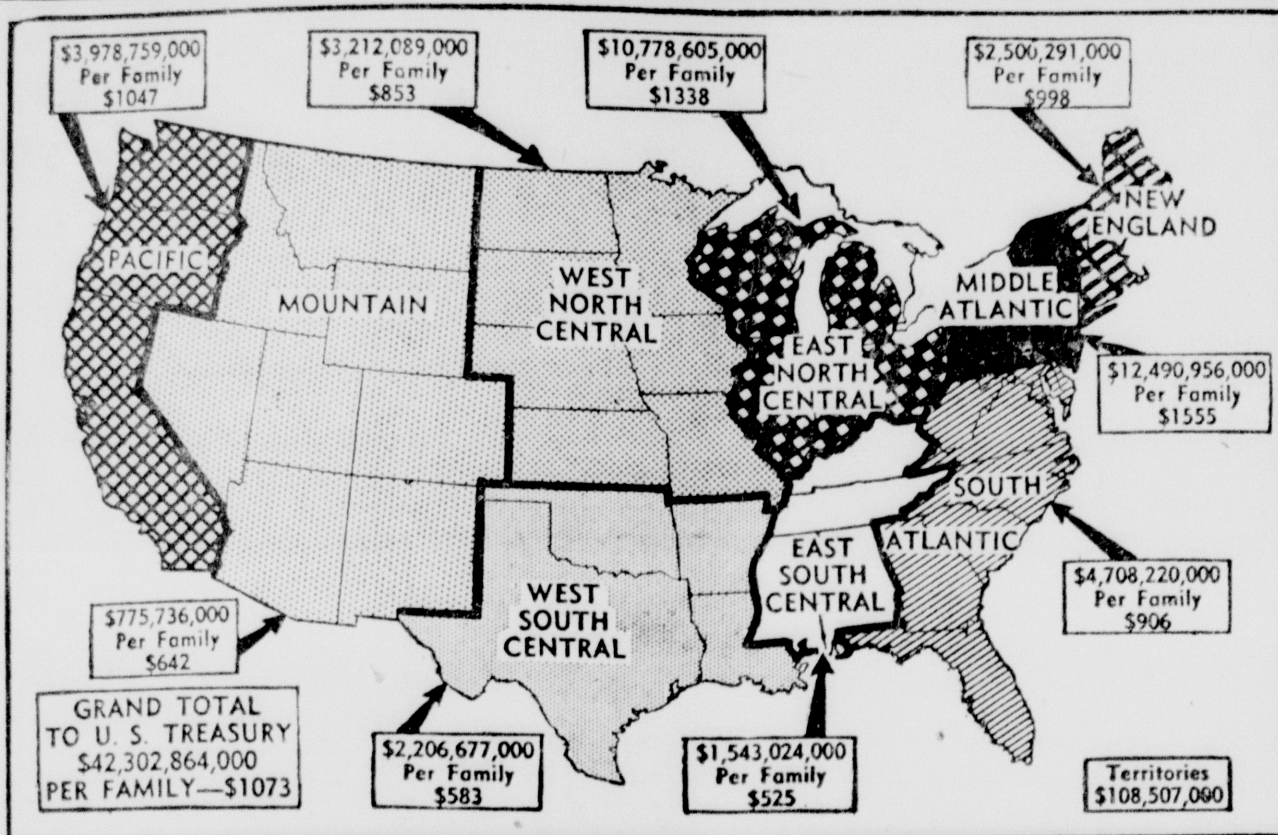

Unfortunately, Gloucester—like most of New England—has some unemployment. That is, there are many who cannot get jobs which pay the wages these unemployed want. It is very hard for girls, who got over $45 per week during the war, to work for $25 which is all that many employers can now afford. As my old friends and their children, here in Gloucester, ask my advice as to what to do, I say:

"Take the $25 a week job; be the first there every morning; the last to leave every night; and help your employer make some money. The important thing is to get your foot in the door. When I graduated from college, I tramped the streets six weeks looking for a job and finally took one at $8.00 per week. Of course, $8.00 then bought more than double what it does now; but this is not the fault of any employer."

A Lesson In Economics

The cost of honest and sensible living is the real thing in which we all should be interested. It's not how much money we get in our pay envelope, but rather how much that pay envelope will buy in food, clothing and shelter. Well, to increase this latter requires that more people shall work. Short hours and loafing send up costs whether this loafing is on the job or off the job. Only as more goods are produced, is there more to divide. This is another reason for taking a $25 to $30 a week job. It's a crime for any of us to loaf.

The business honeymoon is over, but there is no need of a depression now if everyone will keep busy. The wages received are of secondary importance. Lower wages will cramp us for awhile and force our families to give up temporarily some things we now enjoy—perhaps beauty shops, dry cleaners, telephones and even automobiles—but the family income at one half war wages will give nourishing food, good-looking clothes and a place to sleep. Smart are those who first realize this. Foolish are those who are now un-

President Truman's Theory

It is unpopular amongst businessmen to say a good word for Mr. Truman; but there may be some sense in the theory of his leading Cabinet Member Charles Brannan, Secretary of Agriculture. His advice—as I understand it—is to let prices and wages find their natural levels and then have the government protect farmers with subsidies, and protect wage-workers with old age assistance, free medical service, government housing and other "welfare benefits." This is contrary to good Republican doctrine; but I fear it will be tried.

Certainly the system of price fixing was a big failure; and I believe that wage fixing, either by legislation or labor unions, is bound to create unemployment and hence hold up costs. It seems fine to have a minimum wage of seventy-five cents per hour if you can get a job at that wage; but if your employer can't afford it and you lose your present job at sixty cents per hour you are worse off.

Reduce Costs And Prices

The above is my advice to farmers; but fight for fair subsidies. My advice to wage-workers is to cheerfully accept the "market wage" whatever it may be, but not be ashamed to take reasonable government assistance. As manufacturers are protected by a tariff, so farmers and wage-workers are entitled to some similar protection.

Of course, the above means either higher taxes or more debt. As taxes are now higher than the country can long stand, the Brannan Policy may force an increase in the Federal Debt or a reduction in Federal expenses. It is a crime to waste the people's money. I favor a cut of 10 per cent for all departments. If the so-called "deficit money" is used for permanent improvements, the Federal Government may be as entitled to increase its debt some years the same as is the Telephone Company; but only when so used. Perhaps we must also recognize: If our capitalistic system (in order to exist) depends on encouraging people to spend all they earn during goodtimes by installment buying, expensive advertising and high pressure selling, then it perhaps must in some way take care of these people in lean years when their income is cut off.

'Nice' Young Woman Drives Car Away

Lancaster, Pennsylvania (AP)—The young woman who walked into an automobile repair shop was about 25 and quite respectable in appearance.

Approaching a mechanic working on an expensive sedan, she asked if the car was ready. Told that it was, she said: "Okay, I'll drive it." And out she and the car went. A half hour later, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent J. Green arrived to pick up their car. Now police are looking for that "nice" young woman and the Green's car.

Tourists Are Killing Bears With Kindness

Washington.—Tourists in the national parks are killing black bears—with kindness.

National Park Service officials explain that they try to warn tourists against "feeding and fraternizing" with the bears in Yosemite, Yellowstone and Glacier National Parks. Bears, officials explain, "are potentially dangerous and should be treated as wild animals."

But many tourists ignore the warning, and the bears, encouraged by the over friendly tourists, become more daring. The animals, begin to break into automobiles, tents and buildings looking for food.

These robber bears are likely to become dangerous, so they must be removed or killed. During one season 101 black bears were trapped and removed from Yosemite alone and seven bears had to be killed.

Clocks Returned To Former Actress

Los Angeles, (AP)—The court has given former actress Carlotta Monti plenty of time.

A superior judge ruled Wednesday that she is entitled to three clocks and various other items from the effects of her late friend, W. C. Fields.

Magda Michael, executrix for the $771,429 estate, was ordered to return Miss Monti's things to her. Miss Michael said the comedian liked to have lots of clocks around. Among effects Miss Monti will receive is the oversized bed in which Fields died on Christmas day, 1946. Fields insisted on using the bed in the hospital, Miss Michael said, because he distrusted hospital beds.
